New Paltz Welcomes 55 Peace Corps Trainees

Fifty-five Peace Corps trainees were welcomed to State University College at New Paltz Monday during a banquet in their honor.

Extending the official welcome was Dr. William J. Haggerty, college president.

Speakers at the banquet were Harris L. Wofford, former special assistant to President John F. Kennedy on civil rights and the Peace Corps; J. C. W. Porter, third secretary to the Sierra Leone, Africa, chancellory and President Haggerty. Wofford recently accepted a position as Peace Corps representative in Ethiopia and overseas administrator of the Ethiopian program.

'Have Secret of Our Time

"The 'New Frontier' is out there where you are going. The Peace Corps is a way that the American people can rediscover their pioneering spirit," Wofford told the trainees.

He cautioned the trainees that they were "speaking to the world by their actions," and emphasized that they had "the secret of our time."

"Friendliness and a genuine friendship is what the people of Sierra Leone appreciate. We hope you will come to help and not to dominate," Porter said to the trainees.

"You who are teachers have a difficult job and we ask you to bring up the educational standards of our country," Porter continued.

Great Opportunity

Dr. Haggerty spoke of the Peace Corps as a "new departure in American relations," and as the "essence of the people-to-people program started by the Eisenhower administration."

"You have the opportunity for the kind of experience that few Americans have," he told the trainees.

Dr. Haggerty also announced that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, a member of the National Advisory Committee on the Peace Corps, will visit the trainees July 10.

Dr. George W. Bond, principal of the Campus School at State University College, and Peace Corps project coordinator for this Sierra Leone program, presided at the banquet.

Training to End Aug. 18

The trainees arrived at New Paltz Monday and will complete an eight-week training program Aug. 18. The training program calls for 10 hours a day of extensive training and the last two weeks will be spent at the College Camp located near the Shokan Reservoir.

Upon completion of the training period, the new Peace Corps members, after a 10-day home leave, will go to Sierra Leone. They will remain there for two years.

No Reason For Berlin War: Nik

Solution to Come WhenTimeIsRipe

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Romanian workers today that the Soviet Union sees no reason to go to war over Berlin and "we do not give any deadline" on settling the Berlin issue.

"The United States threatened us with war over Berlin, but I don't see any reason to go to war," he said.

No Deadline Either

"Those who talk about war had better remember that if they pushed the button it would boomerang against them."

"We do not give any deadline, but as soon as the matter is ripe we will solve the problem," he said.

Khrushchev spoke to a crowd of railway workers in the rolling-stock repair yards on the outskirts of Bucharest. He arrived in Romania Monday for a week's visit.

Sees Red Flag Over U.S.

Khrushchev told the workers: "I am convinced that tomorrow the Red flag will fly over the United States. But we will not fly the flag. It will be the American people themselves."

Discussing Berlin, Khrushchev said:

"We want an agreement with the Americans to change the occupation status of West Berlin and convert it into a free city. But if there is no understanding on this matter with the United States, we will sign a peace treaty with the German Democratic Republic, ending the occupation status of West Berlin."

Khrushchev attacked the United States for failing to reach an agreement on disarmament and a halt to nuclear testing.

"Therefore we have to produce bombs," he said. "This is a waste of energy because people cannot eat bombs."

He said the armament race was responsible for the recent increase

Clouds May DelayRecord Pacific Shot

HONOLULU (AP)— The United States tries again late tonight to set off the biggest nuclear blast of its current Pacific series, but the weatherman isn't optimistic.

Not Moving Now

"It doesn't look too favorable," said a forecaster at the U.S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu. "Those same clouds are still over Johnston Island and reports indicate they are not moving."

A high cloud above the Johnston test site caused a 24-hour postponement of the test Monday. Joint Task Force 8 rescheduled the explosion for 11 p.m. HST—4 a.m. EST Wednesday—but said weather or technical troubles might delay it as late as 2:30 a.m. HST—7:30 a.m. EST.

If the nuclear device isn't fired by then, the test will be postponed again..

Dense clouds bunched up over Johnston at 40,000 feet early Monday blotting out the upper atmosphere. The Weather Bureau said there was a thinner layer of clouds at about 15,000 feet.

From 200 Miles Up

The clouds prevent photographing of the explosion in detail. Scientists are anxious to get pictures of the nuclear fireball.

The blast, when it comes off, will be the most powerful of all American tests in the Pacific this spring. It also will be the highest detonation — educated estimates range from 200 miles up.

Minority Rule Likely After Shaky Victory

TORONTO (AP)— Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservatives emerged today from Canada's national election still the biggest party in the House of Commons but without a majority after a stunning setback.

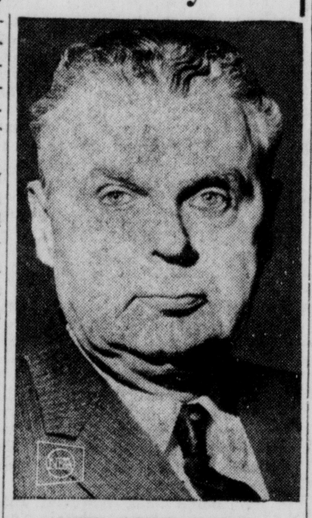

Diefenbaker apparently will try to form a minority government, as he did in 1957. But as he did then, he is expected to call a new election within a year after a period of routine administration in which no controversial legislation can be adopted.

Liberals Win 96

"We are still the government of Canada," the 67-year-old Conservative leader told supporters in Prince Albert, Sask., his home town. However, his party's holding had been slashed from a record 203 seats in the 265-member House of Commons.

With three seats still undecided, the Conservatives held 117 and had a chance to pick up one more. The Liberals won 96 and were leading for another. The Social Credit party had won 30 and the New Democratic party had 19.

One Ontario seat will be filled in July because a candidate died during the campaign.

3 Ulster, Dutchess Men Seized

Arrests Total 12, More Anticipated

Four more persons, including three from Ulster County, were arrested around noon Monday by the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department and Ulster County Investigator Arthur H. Brown in conjunction with a series of more than 200 burglaries that allegedly netted upwards of one-half million dollars in loot.

The latest arrests mushroom the total nabbed to date to an even dozen. And more are anticipated.

Arrested at Homes

Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan disclosed this morning that Walter Eichler, 34, Robert Eichler, 47, Nicholas Eichler, 46, all of Ardonia and Egidio Pagana, 29, Hyde Park, were arrested at their respective homes and charged with receiving stolen goods.

The four men were arraigned before Judge Milton Haven in Poughkeepsie City Court. Robert Eichler, Nicholas Eichler and Pagana were released on $5,000 bail. Walter Eichler was released on $1,000 bail according to the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department.

Admit Buying Goods

Reports from the sheriff's department say that the four persons had in their possession, at the time of their arrest, articles stolen by Raymond H. Stanton, 48, of 54 Jefferson Street, Poughkeepsie, and sold to them. The quartet admitted buying the articles from Stanton according to Sheriff Quinlan.

He further disclosed that his department was still recovering stolen materials and that more arrests were anticipated.

Face July 2 Hearing

The hearing for the men arrested Monday was set for July 2 by Judge Milton.

Stanton and two other persons are already charged with the series of burglaries in Columbia, Dutchess and Putnam Counties. They are accused of only one burglary in Ulster County.

The trio awaits grand jury action on charges of burglary third degree.

Others Facing Charges

Joseph Realmuto, Highland.

Frederick Marks, 54, Town of Clinton.

Vernon O. Baker, 51, Clintondale Road, Highland.

Alfred E. Cooper, 35, Chapel Hill Road, Town of Lloyd.

Edward Von Haag and his wife, Freedom Plains.

New Terrorism Feared

OAS Diehards Veto Moslem Peace Pact

ALGIERS (AP)—New terrorism threatened Algeria today as Secret Army Organization diehards in Oran and Bone rejected a peace pact between Moslem nationalists and European leaders in Algiers.

"Keep your arms. Continue the fight," a secret army broadcast warned European settlers in the western port city of Oran.

In Bone, eastern Algieria, the underground command distributed handbills spurning Sunday's Algiers agreement and vowing to continue the fight for French rule in Algeria.

Both Denounce Accord

Both groups denounced the accord, which called for a halt to the terrorists' scorched earth policy. They branded as worthless promises by Moslem nationalist representatives of an amnesty for secret army terrorists and guarantees for Europeans in a Moslem-ruled Algieria.

Despite the diehards' defiant stand, there was no outbreak of major terrorism Monday. The only incidents reported were explosion of a small plastic bomb and three grenades in Bone, with little damage, a shot at a high army officer that missed and several holdups.

Tense European settlers awaited word from Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, premier of the Algerian nationalist government in exile.

Ben Khedda was expected to make a broadcast from Tunis that could have a marked effect on the success or failure of the effort to bring peace between the secret army and the Moslems.

In a preliminary communique Ben Khedda made no reference to the agreement between the Moslems and the secret army leaders in Algiers but said that "extremist European elements have not given up the idea of partitioning Algeria."

Ben Khedda also charged French troops around Sidi bel Abbes, the Foreign Legion headquarters, with violating the Evian exile government and the French government.

A member of Ben Khedda's regime, State Minister Hussein Ait Ahme, told an Arab meeting in Cairo his government had nothing to do with the Algiers accord. He said it was worked out between the secret army and members of the 12-man French-Algerian provisional executive, and dealt only with security issues.

So far, the only pledge in the name of the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN) has been made by Dr. Chewki Mostefai, its delegate in the provisional executive. Mostefai reached the agreemnt with Jean-Jacques Susini, Algiers secret army leader.

Most Europeans feared the pledge had no legal value since it consisted only of a broadcast statement by Mostefai in the name of the FLN and a secret army broadcast calling for a halt to arson and destruction. They doubted such a pact would be binding on the Moslem government of an independent Algeria.

The Algiers secret army command and the influential European Union of French Workers in Algeria, however, went along with the pact. They called on the Europeans to halt their exodus and help build a new Algeria.

Charges Rocky, GOP Trying To Distract State Voters

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The State Democratic Committee chairman says Gov. Rockefeller and the Republican Party is sidestepping state issues and trying to distract the voter by criticizing the Kennedy Administration.

William H. Mc Keon leveled his attack on the Republican governor in a speech Monday night at a dinner of the Erie County Democratic Committee.

"From the way the Republicans carried on," he told the audience, "you'd think President Kennedy was our candidate for governor."

"Our worries would be over if this was the case," he said.

The chairman shared the platform with Frank D. O'Connor, district attorney from Queens County, a recently announced candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Sen. Gale Mc Gee (D-Wyo.) also was on the program.

Mc Keon said the Republicans were looking beyond the coming election and were pushing Rockefeller for the presidency in 1964.

"The Republicans want to make President Kennedy and his federal administration the central issue in this state campaign. We accept the challenge gladly — and with thanks," he said.

O'Connor accused Rockefeller of "the worst breach of faith with the American principle of any governor of this state since we became a nation."

Referring to Rockefeller's recent statements on congressional representation, the district attorney said:

"What he's saying now is that he's wrong and he knows it but he won't do anything about it this year because election years are—get this—too emotional..."

O'Connor charged that the Republicans "have pulled this state like a piece of putty and framed it to their own advantage."

"It's time," he said, "we chased the Rockefeller administration and its band of new reactionaries out of Albany and back to Wall Street—for good."

See Victory in Defeat

Newburgh Feels Welfare Aims Gained

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Newburgh's city administration may have lost the welfare battle but it claims to have won the war.

A year ago today, this historic Hudson riverfront city of 31,000 instituted its much-debated plan to cut welfare costs by trimming the rolls of frauds, chiselers, repeating unwed mothers, and able bodied men.

Federal and state welfare officials joined with private social organizations, religious leaders and other groups in blasting the Newburgh approach.

Many other national figures and organizations supported it. Among them were Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Sen. John Tower, R-Texas.

Twelve of the 13 points were ultimately thrown out of court.

But backers of the program now say its objective was achieved through a series of reforms in the city welfare department, that costs are decreasing and that rolls have largely been purged of the undeserving.

The prime mover for the Newburgh plan was its author, Joseph McDowell Mitchell, the 39-year-old city manager.

As Mitchell describes it, the major aim was to assert local control over a local situation paid for in part by local taxes.

There is a slight difference between the welfare figures used by Mitchell and those used by the State Department of Social Welfare. State officials say Mitchell has made some omissions.

Newburgh's welfare costs totaled $959,000 in 1961 of a total budget of $3,599,000. Newburgh taxpayers paid a $322,000 share of the welfare total. State and federal payments made up the rest. By comparison, police and fire protection cost $875,000.

Last year, relief rolls declined 3 per cent to an average of 900 persons per month but costs rose 2.5 per cent. This was compared to the state-wide increase of 8.5 per cent in rolls and 12 per cent in costs.

For the first five months of this year, Mitchell reports a drop of 153 cases and a decrease in costs of $13,000 compared with the first five months of last year.

Mitchell claims the decreases have been accomplished through the reforms in the department and that he personally has not received a single complaint from reliefers.

Democratic Mayor William C. Ryan, Mitchell's major foe, claims there is unjustified hardship, an atmosphere of an "inquisition," and says "the scared welfare recipient would hardly go to Joe Mitchell."

The mayor and other opponents say that Newburgh's total welfare cost rose $20,000 last year but that increased federal and state aid made the total cost to taxpayers $1,800 less than in 1960.

They assert the new commissioner knows virtually nothing about the complexities of social welfare, that new employes are insufficiently trained for counseling, and that the department spends almost all its time checking qualifications—not offering rehabilitative aids.

They add that Mitchell found one case of suspected fraud—a woman who misrepresented two children as her nephews—after

Solidarity Still Unshaken

Rusk Begins NATO Fence-Mending Job

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today to begin a fence-mending tour of Western Europe. He declared Allied solidarity remains unshaken.

In a brief statement on arrival at Orly Field, Rusk said he intended to confer with Allied leaders on "our common goals and our common commitments" as they affect the North Atlantic community and other parts of the world.

Entering New Chapter

He said he wanted to look into the next steps in Allied relationships which he said were entering "a new chapter."

"In other words—where do we go from here?" the secretary asked, indicating that this would be his main concern in his talks in France, West Germany, Italy, Britain and Portugal.

On his 10-day tour Rusk will tackle a number of problems that plague relations among the Western Allies.

Near the top of the list will be efforts to forge a common nuclear weapons policy, an issue on which Washington and Paris are far apart. No quick agreement is expected.

France's President Charles de Gaulle is determined his nation should have its own nuclear force. The United States contends the West's force should be "indivisable," that "relatively weak national nuclear forces" would have a negligible effect.

Wide Range of Problems

The secretary of state has a wide range of world problems to go over not only in Paris but in Bonn, Rome, Lisbon and London. He also will make a stopover in Berlin.

Before winging out of Washington early today, Rusk conceded there is "ferment" in the Atlantic community—the entering of "a new period of creative activity."

Rusk had a 90-minute conference on Berlin Monday with Anatoly Dobrunin, the Soviet ambassador. It was their fifth such meeting since Dobrynin arrived in the United States in March and no progress has been reported so far.

This is a country-by-country breakdown of the problems which

Survey Approved For Creek, Fund Allocation Next

A federal survey of the Rondout Creek has been authorized, the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce revealed today.

This is considered definite progress in the chamber's effort "to have the Corps of Army Engineers extend the prescribed Rondout Creek channel to the end of navigation."

Word From Wharton

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton recently wrote that he was "pleased to report that the Public Works Committee of the House of Representatives has authorized a survey of the Rondout harbor."

The next step, it was noted, is the approval of limited funds for the Corps of Army Engineers to conduct the study.

A delegation from the chamber visited Col. Charles M. Duke, district engineer, of the Army engineers' corps in New York to determine procedure. Congressman Wharton was asked after the conference to assist in getting approval of the public works committee in The House to "initiate a re-study of the project based on recent developments in the harbor."

Adequate Channel Vital

The chamber feels that because of "increased use of the harbor for commercial water traffic, as well as the tremen-

Violent Storms Rip Wide Areas, 2 Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent thunderstorms, accompanied locally by destructive winds and hail, belted wide areas Monday night along a squall line stretching from Texas to the Great Lakes.

The most destructive storm, which spawned at least two tornadoes, battered the St. Louis area and then plowed northeastward across Illinois into Indiana. It left a path of toppled utility poles and trees.

The turbulent weather was triggered by cool air that dropped temperatures along the storm line as much as 30 degrees. To the south and east sunny skies sent temperatures soaring into the uncomfortable 80s and 90s.

It was 96 at Indianapolis Monday and 95 in Chicago, Memphis, Tenn., and Columbus, Ohio. A heat wave also hit California's inland valleys with 109 registered at Thermal.

A lightning bolt killed a teenage girl crossing a highway near Putnamville in central Indiana. Another was killed at Greenfield in the same area when she fell across a live utility wire downed by high winds.

A tornado flattened a drive-in restaurant at New Castle, a community of 20,000 in east central Indiana. A drive-in theater screen was toppled by high winds at Connersville.

A funnel cloud was sighted near Monsanto, Ill., across the Mississippi River from St. Louis. The police radio aerial at Venice, Ill., in the same area was blown down. Effingham and Mattoon, Ill., both measured an unofficial two inches of rain during a 90-minute thunderstorm.

Baseball-size hail battered the Childress, Tex., area. Large hail and winds estimated at 100 m.p.h. hit Quanah, Tex., about 35 miles northeast of Childress.

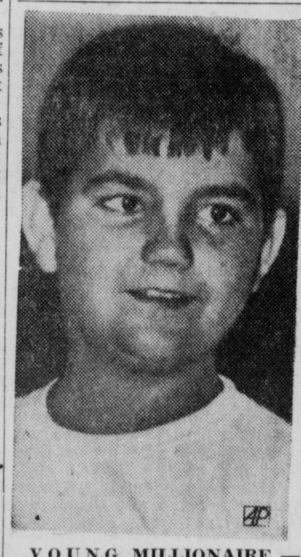

A child was hit by flying glass when high winds whipped Vernon, Tex., causing heavy property damage. Four persons were injured near Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls, Tex., when high winds overturned several trailer homes.

Monday's high temperatures included a sweltering 93 at New York City, second hottest day of the year there. The heat buckled a section of the busy Long Island Expressway, causing a bumper-to-bumper traffic jam six miles long.

Heat also buckled concrete in three lanes of Chicago's Edens Expressway in mid afternoon, causing a rush-hour jam. The 95-degree reading was three degrees shy of Chicago's record for June 18 set in 1954.

Upstate Areas Put Off Sales Tax Date

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Officials of two Adirondack area counties have agreed to comply with a judge's request that they postpone imposition of a sales tax.

The tax was scheduled to be levied July 1 in Warren and Washington counties.

State Supreme Court Justice Harold R. Soden asked Monday that the effective date of the tax be put off until July 15 to give him more time to consider challenges by foes of the tax.

Later, chairmen of the boards of supervisors in the two counties said they would call special meetings of the boards for next week to comply with the request.

The boards had voted in March to impose a 3 per cent levy on hotel and motel bills and restaurant checks of more than $1 and a 2 per cent tax on most retail sales. Their actions set off a heated controversy in the two counties. Similar disputes have raged elsewhere in the state.

Opponents of the tax in Washington County told Soden last month that the county had no right to impose the tax without a referendum.

The Warren County anti-tax group raised the same objection and also argued that the board should hold a public hearing on the issue before its adoption and that the sales-tax resolution was filed improperly.

A similar tax was approved in Essex County, which adjoins Warren and Washington, but supervisors later rescinded the action.

No Reason For Berlin War: Nik

Solution to Come WhenTimeIsRipe

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told Romanian workers today that the Soviet Union sees no reason to go to war over Berlin and "we do not give any deadline" on settling the Berlin issue.

"The United States threatened us with war over Berlin, but I don't see any reason to go to war," he said.

No Deadline Either

"Those who talk about war had better remember that if they pushed the button it would boomerang against them."

"We do not give any deadline, but as soon as the matter is ripe we will solve the problem," he said.

Khrushchev spoke to a crowd of railway workers in the rolling-stock repair yards on the outskirts of Bucharest. He arrived in Romania Monday for a week's visit.

Sees Red Flag Over U.S.

Khrushchev told the workers: "I am convinced that tomorrow the Red flag will fly over the United States. But we will not fly the flag. It will be the American people themselves."

Discussing Berlin, Khrushchev said:

"We want an agreement with the Americans to change the occupation status of West Berlin and convert it into a free city. But if there is no understanding on this matter with the United States, we will sign a peace treaty with the German Democratic Republic, ending the occupation status of West Berlin."

Khrushchev attacked the United States for failing to reach an agreement on disarmament and a halt to nuclear testing.

"Therefore we have to produce bombs," he said. "This is a waste of energy because people cannot eat bombs."

He said the armament race was responsible for the recent increase

Clouds May DelayRecord Pacific Shot

HONOLULU (AP)— The United States tries again late tonight to set off the biggest nuclear blast of its current Pacific series, but the weatherman isn't optimistic.

Not Moving Now

"It doesn't look too favorable," said a forecaster at the U.S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu. "Those same clouds are still over Johnston Island and reports indicate they are not moving."

A high cloud above the Johnston test site caused a 24-hour postponement of the test Monday. Joint Task Force 8 rescheduled the explosion for 11 p.m. HST—4 a.m. EST Wednesday—but said weather or technical troubles might delay it as late as 2:30 a.m. HST—7:30 a.m. EST.

If the nuclear device isn't fired by then, the test will be postponed again.

Dense clouds bunched up over Johnston at 40,000 feet early Monday blotting out the upper atmosphere. The Weather Bureau said there was a thinner layer of clouds at about 15,000 feet.

From 200 Miles Up

The clouds prevent photographing of the explosion in detail. Scientists are anxious to get pictures of the nuclear fireball.

The blast, when it comes off, will be the most powerful of all American tests in the Pacific this spring. It also will be the highest detonation — educated estimates range from 200 miles up.

Charges Rocky, GOP Trying To Distract State Voters

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The State Democratic Committee chairman says Gov. Rockefeller and the Republican Party is sidestepping state issues and trying to distract the voter by criticizing the Kennedy Administration.

William H. Mc Keon leveled his attack on the Republican governor in a speech Monday night at a dinner of the Erie County Democratic Committee.

"From the way the Republicans carried on," he told the audience, "you'd think President Kennedy was our candidate for governor."

"Our worries would be over if this was the case," he said.

The chairman shared the platform with Frank D. O'Connor, district attorney from Queens County, a recently announced candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Sen. Gale Mc Gee (D-Wyo.) also was on the program.

Mc Keon said the Republicans were looking beyond the coming election and were pushing Rockefeller for the presidency in 1964.

"The Republicans want to make President Kennedy and his federal administration the central issue in this state campaign. We accept the challenge gladly — and with thanks," he said.

O'Connor accused Rockefeller of "the worst breach of faith with the American principle of any governor of this state since we became a nation."

Referring to Rockefeller's recent statements on congressional representation, the district attorney said:

"What he's saying now is that he's wrong and he knows it but he won't do anything about it this year because election years are—get this—too emotional..."

O'Connor charged that the Republicans "have pulled this state like a piece of putty and framed it to their own advantage."

"It's time," he said, "we chased the Rockefeller administration and its band of new reactionaries out of Albany and back to Wall Street—for good."

See Victory in Defeat

Newburgh Feels Welfare Aims Gained

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Newburgh's city administration may have lost the welfare battle but it claims to have won the war.

A year ago today, this historic Hudson riverfront city of 31,000 instituted its much-debated plan to cut welfare costs by trimming the rolls of frauds, chiselers, repeating unwed mothers, and able bodied men.

Federal and state welfare officials joined with private social organizations, religious leaders and other groups in blasting the Newburgh approach.

Many other national figures and organizations supported it. Among them were Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Sen. John Tower, R-Texas.

Twelve of the 13 points were ultimately thrown out of court.

But backers of the program now say its objective was achieved through a series of reforms in the city welfare department, that costs are decreasing and that rolls have largely been purged of the undeserving.

The prime mover for the Newburgh plan was its author, Joseph McDowell Mitchell, the 39-year-old city manager.

As Mitchell describes it, the major aim was to assert local control over a local situation paid for in part by local taxes.

There is a slight difference between the welfare figures used by Mitchell and those used by the State Department of Social Welfare. State officials say Mitchell has made some omissions.

Newburgh's welfare costs totaled $959,000 in 1961 of a total budget of $3,598,000. Newburgh taxpayers paid a $322,000 share of the welfare total. State and federal payments made up the rest. By comparison, police and fire protection cost $875,000.

Last year, relief rolls declined 3 per cent to an average of 900 persons per month but costs rose 2.5 per cent. This was compared to the state-wide increase of 8.5 per cent in rolls and 12 per cent in costs.

For the first five months of this year, Mitchell reports a drop of 153 cases and a decrease in costs of $13,000 compared with the first five months of last year.

Mitchell claims the decreases have been accomplished through the reforms in the department and that he personally has not received a single complaint from reliefers.

Democratic Mayor William C. Ryan, Mitchell's major foe, claims there is unjustified hardship, an atmosphere of an "inquisition," and says "the scared welfare recipient would hardly go to Joe Mitchell."

The mayor and other opponents say that Newburgh's total welfare cost rose $20,000 last year but that increased federal and state aid made the total cost to taxpayers $1,800 less than in 1960.

They assert the new commissioner knows virtually nothing about the complexities of social welfare, that new employes are insufficiently trained for counseling, and that the department spends almost all its time checking qualifications—not offering rehabilitative aids.

They add that Mitchell found one case of suspected fraud—a woman who misrepresented two children as her nephews—after

Nab 4 More in 3-County Ring With Stolen Goods

Arrests Total 12, More Anticipated

Four more persons, including three from Ulster County, were arrested around noon Monday by the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department and Ulster County Investigator Arthur H. Brown in conjunction with a series of more than 200 burglaries that allegedly netted upwards of one-half million dollars in loot.

The latest arrests mushroom the total nabbed to date to an even dozen. And more are anticipated.

Arrested at Homes

Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan disclosed this morning that Walter Eichler, 34, Robert Eichler, 47, Nicholas Eichler, 46, all of Ardonia and Egidio Pagana, 29, Hyde Park, were arrested at their respective homes and charged with receiving stolen goods.

The four men were arraigned before Judge Milton Haven in Poughkeepsie City Court. Robert Eichler, Nicholas Eichler and Pagana were released on $5,000 bail. Walter Eichler was released on $1,000 bail according to the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department.

Admit Buying Goods

Reports from the sheriff's department say that the four persons had in their possession, at the time of their arrest, articles stolen by Raymond H. Stanton, 48, of 54 Jefferson Street, Poughkeepsie, and sold to them. The quartet admitted buying the articles from Stanton according to Sheriff Quinlan.

He further disclosed that his department was still recovering stolen materials and that more arrests were anticipated.

Face July 2 Hearing

The hearing for the men arrested Monday was set for July 2 by Judge Milton.

Stanton and two other persons are already charged with the series of burglaries in Columbia, Dutchess and Putnam Counties. They are accused of only one burglary in Ulster County.

The trio awaits grand jury action on charges of burglary third degree.

Others Facing Charges

Joseph Realmuto, Highland.

Frederick Marks, 54, Town of Clinton.

Vernon O. Baker, 51, Clintondale Road, Highland.

Alfred E. Cooper, 35, Chapel Hill Road, Town of Lloyd.

Edward Von Haag and his wife, Freedom Plains.

Minority Rule Likely After Shaky Victory

TORONTO (AP)— Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservatives emerged today from Canada's national election still the biggest party in the House of Commons but without a majority after a stunning setback.

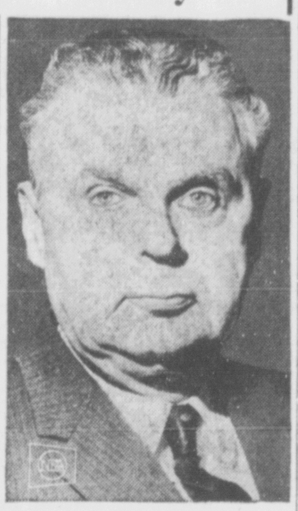

Diefenbaker apparently will try to form a minority government, as he did in 1957. But as he did then, he is expected to call a new election within a year after a period of routine administration in which no controversial legislation can be adopted.

Liberals Win 96

"We are still the government of Canada," the 67-year-old Conservative leader told supporters in Prince Albert, Sask., his home town. However, his party's holding had been slashed from a record 203 seats in the 265-member House of Commons.

With three seats still undecided, the Conservatives held 117 and had a chance to pick up one more. The Liberals won 96 and were leading for another. The Social Credit party had won 30 and the New Democratic party had 19.

One Ontario seat will be filled in July because a candidate died during the campaign.

The Conservatives appeared to be at least 15 seats short of the 133 required for an absolute majority in the House. The final

Rusk Begins NATO Fence-Mending Job

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today to begin a fence-mending tour of Western Europe. He declared Allied solidarity remains unshaken.

In a brief statement on arrival at Orly Field, Rusk said he intended to confer with Allied leaders on "our common goals and our common commitments" as they affect the North Atlantic community and other parts of the world.

Entering New Chapter

He said he wanted to look into the next steps in Allied relationships which he said were entering "a new chapter."

"In other words—where do we go from here?" the secretary asked, indicating that this would be his main concern in his talks in France, West Germany, Italy, Britain and Portugal.

On his 10-day tour Rusk will tackle a number of problems that plague relations among the Western Allies.

Near the top of the list will be efforts to forge a common nuclear weapons policy, an issue on which Washington and Paris are far apart. No quick agreement is expected.

France's President Charles de Gaulle is determined his nation should have its own nuclear force. The United States contends the West's force should be "indivisable," that "relatively weak national nuclear forces" would have a negligible effect.

Wide Range of Problems

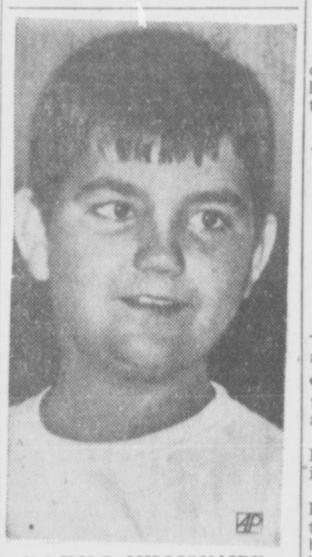

The secretary of state has a wide range of world problems to go over not only in Paris but in Bonn, Rome, Lisbon and London. He also will make a stopover in Berlin.

Before winging out of Washington early today, Rusk conceded there is "ferment" in the Atlantic community—the entering of "a new period of creative activity."

Rusk had a 90-minute conference on Berlin Monday with Anatoly Dobrunin, the Soviet ambassador. It was their fifth such meeting since Dobrynin arrived in the United States in March and no progress has been reported so far.

This is a country-by-country breakdown of the problems which

Survey Approved For Creek, Fund Allocation Next

A federal survey of the Rondout Creek has been authorized, the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce revealed today.

This is considered definite progress in the chamber's effort "to have the Corps of Army Engineers extend the prescribed Rondout Creek channel to the end of navigation."

Word From Wharton

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton recently wrote that he was "pleased to report that the Public Works Committee of the House of Representatives has authorized a survey of the Rondout harbor."

The next step, it was noted, is the approval of limited funds for the Corps of Army Engineers to conduct the study.

A delegation from the chamber visited Col. Charles M. Duke, district engineer, of the Army engineers' corps in New York to determine procedure. Congressman Wharton was asked after the conference to assist in getting approval of the public works committee in The House to "initiate a re-study of the project based on recent developments in the harbor."

Adequate Channel Vital

The chamber feels that because of "increased use of the harbor for commercial water traffic, as well as the tremen-

Upstate Areas Put Off Sales Tax Date

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Officials of two Adirondack area counties have agreed to comply with a judge's request that they postpone imposition of a sales tax.

The tax was scheduled to be levied July 1 in Warren and Washington counties.

State Supreme Court Justice Harold R. Soden asked Monday that the effective date of the tax be put off until July 15 to give him more time to consider challenges by foes of the tax.

Later, chairmen of the boards of supervisors in the two counties said they would call special meetings of the boards for next week to comply with the request.

The boards had voted in March to impose a 3 per cent levy on hotel and motel bills and restaurant checks of more than $1 and a 2 per cent tax on most retail sales. Their actions set off a heated controversy in the two counties. Similar disputes have raged elsewhere in the state.

Opponents of the tax in Washington County told Soden last month that the county had no right to impose the tax without a referendum.

The Warren County anti-tax group raised the same objection and also argued that the board should hold a public hearing on the issue before its adoption and that the sales-tax resolution was filed improperly.

A similar tax was approved in Essex County, which adjoins Warren and Washington, but supervisors later rescinded the action.

State Migrant Group Training Session Underway

The Rev. Isaac Igarashi, Director of the Eastern Field Office, Division of Home Missions, National Council of Churches, New York, will be the speaker at a mass meeting to close the training conference for chaplains and workers with migrants at Watson Homestead, Cooper's Plains, Friday, 8 p. m.

The mass meeting is the concluding event of the annual training conference for the staff of the migrant ministry sponsored by the New York State Council of Churches.

Some 35 persons are receiving the training from June 18 through 22. The conference is planned to help the workers carry on a religious, educational, social, and recreational ministry among the more than 30,000 migrant agricultural workers coming to New York State this summer.

Paltz Area Program

The New York State Council of Churches will place 25 chaplains and seven teams of students as part of the migrant ministry program this year. In addition Suffolk County, the New Paltz area, and Dutchess County will have a ministry to the migrants of their areas staffed by local ministers.

The New York Confernce of The Methodist Church is employing Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olmstead of the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, Calif., to do a survey in the Milton area to determine the number of migrants who have become permanent residents of the area.

The teams of students are placed in cooperation with the constituent denominations of the New York State Council of Churches. The Central New York Diocese of the Episcopal Church will have teams working at King Ferry and North Norwich. The Mennonite Central Committee will provide teams at Hamilton and Waterville. The Reformed Church of America will place teams in both Wayne and Columbia Counties. Orleans County will have a team provided by the Synod of New York of the United Presbyterian Church.

Speaker Listed

The mass meeting speaker, the Rev. Mr. Igarashi, a graduate of Colgate - Rochester Divinity School, is a native of Sacramento, Calif. and served for 10 years as the director of the Baptist Community Center, Weirton, West Virginia. Horace Putnam, executive secretary of the Interdepartmental Committee on Migrant Labor of the State of New York, Albany, also will address the training conference during its sessions.

Director of the Migrant Ministry, the Rev. Charles W. Ackley, New York State Council of Churches, Syracuse, is in charge of the training program. The summer staff workers will go from the training conference directly to their work with migrants in more than 20 counties in the state.

White Slave Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Immigration agent told Senate investigators today of Canadian girls as young as 15 years old being brought to the United States with glittering promises of night club stardom, but forced into prostitution by a crime syndicate.

Agent Glen F. Rice told the story to the Senate Investigations subcommittee. He charged it showed a conspiracy involving officials of the American Guild of Variety Artists, a woman known as Billie Brown who runs a booking agency in Montreal, and an "organized crime element."

The subcommittee is investigating allegations of connivance between racketeers and some officials of AGVA, an AFL-CIO union.

Souvanna Gains Point on Decree For New Regime

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier-designate of Laos, reportedly won agreement to his latest demands today and the machinery was once again set in motion to install his coalition regime.

Informed sources said King Savang Vathana and right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan agreed to Souvanna's demands for modification of a phrase in the royal decree authorizing the coalition regime.

Souvanna threatened a walkout because the original decree mentioned that the National Assembly had approved the coalition agreement signed last week. Neither Souvanna nor his half-brother and ally, pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong, recognize the conservative-dominated National Assembly.

Souphanouvong, on a visit to Communist North Viet Nam, echoed Souvanna's objections, calling the National Assembly "an instrument of American imperialism."

Souvanna's objections forced the postponement of the installation ceremonies and raised fears that the coalition, two years in the making, was doomed even before it took office.

Informants said, however, that Souvanna won his way in meetings today with King Savang and Phoumi, a deputy premier in the new government along with Souphanouvang. Phoumi reportedly drafted the original installation decree.

Informants said the decree was revised to say that the National Assembly has delegated full powers to the king to decree the formation of the coalition.

Complains to Synod

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Stuart Hamilton Merriam, ousted as minister of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, New York City, complained today to the New York State Synod of the United Presbyterian Church.

Two elders joined the minister in filing written complains for presentation at the Synod's 105th annual meeting, a three-day session opening this afternoon at Hamilton College here.

But officials said no discussion of the issues was slated. The delegates almost certainly will follow tradition and refer the matter Wednesday to the Synod's Permanent Judicial Commission. The 12-member commission, headed by Dr. William E. Montgomery of Glens Falls, is expected to postpone action to some later date.

Agent Glen F. Rice told the story to the Senate Investigations subcommittee. He charged it showed a conspiracy involving officials of the American Guild of Variety Artists, a woman known as Billie Brown who runs a booking agency in Montreal, and an "organized crime element."

The subcommittee is investigating allegations of connivance between racketeers and some officials of AGVA, an AFL-CIO union.

Souvanna Gains Point on Decree For New Regime

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier-designate of Laos, reportedly won agreement to his latest demands today and the machinery was once again set in motion to install his coalition regime.

Informed sources said King Savang Vathana and right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan agreed to Souvanna's demands for modification of a phrase in the royal decree authorizing the coalition regime.

Souvanna threatened a walkout because the original decree mentioned that the National Assembly had approved the coalition agreement signed last week. Neither Souvanna nor his half-brother and ally, pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong, recognize the conservative-dominated National Assembly.

Souphanouvong, on a visit to Communist North Viet Nam, echoed Souvanna's objections, calling the National Assembly "an instrument of American imperialism."

Souvanna's objections forced the postponement of the installation ceremonies and raised fears that the coalition, two years in the making, was doomed even before it took office.

Informants said, however, that Souvanna won his way in meetings today with King Savang and Phoumi, a deputy premier in the new government along with Souphanouvang. Phoumi reportedly drafted the original installation decree.

Informants said the decree was revised to say that the National Assembly has delegated full powers to the king to decree the formation of the coalition.

But officials said no discussion of the issues was slated. The delegates almost certainly will follow tradition and refer the matter Wednesday to the Synod's Permanent Judicial Commission. The 12-member commission, headed by Dr. William E. Montgomery of Glens Falls, is expected to postpone action to some later date.

Woodstock Library Elects Mrs. Taylor New President

Mrs. Gordon Taylor was elected president of the Woodstock Library at the annual election meeting on June 14.

Other new officers are: Mrs. Joseph Steinlauf, vice president; Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, secretary; and Mrs. Gordon Anderson, treasurer.

Theodore Sturgeon will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Alf Evers as a trustee. Re-elected incumbent trustees whose terms expired this year are: Norbert Heerman, Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, Thomas H. Dendy, William Blelock Jr. and Arthur Hansen.

A somewhat larger and more diverse group of members attended the annual membership meeting and election. During the presentation of the various committee year end reports, it became apparent to everyone present that the Woodstock Library has entered into a new stage of expanded development.

While this fact has been underscored many times over the past two or three years, it is apparent that mere factual representation will not serve the library or any other organization as creatively as opinion founded on facts, a Library statement says. From this vantage, the annual meeting was successful in making crystal clear to the Board of Trustees and officers that the faithful labors and devotion of the staff and committees, whether involved directly with Library business, per se, or Library Fair business, has been joined forcefully with the exigencies of the future.

The question is asked: what are these exigencies? They have been implicit in the reports of the past; the physical plant and staffing of the library will soon require carefully planned expansion. The financing of this growth must be planned with the greatest care to fuse economy to efficiency and to place the money-raising aspects of the Library Fair and the yearly Membership Appeal on a realistic basis, in relation to the whole township.

To better deal with these basic necessities, the Woodstock Library board has committed itself to a program of fact finding and opinion making, the statement concludes.

Drama Reviews At Colony Art

The Drama Study League of New York is sponsoring a series of play reviews and discussions of the current season's outstanding dramatic fare at the Colony Arts Center, Rock City Road, Woodstock, on six consecutive Wednesday evenings at 9 p. m., starting July 11.

The program series titled "Broadway in Review" will be presented by Bill Newgold, who also conducts the Writers' Workshop at the Colony Arts Center. Among the season's outstanding plays that he will discuss are "The Aspern Papers," "Passage to India," "Romulus," "Ross," "The Night of the Iguana," "A Thousand Clowns," and possibly "Gideon."

As to what it is all about, the Drama Study League says in its circular, "If you have seen these outstanding Broadway plays then you will enjoy Mr. Newgold's articulate analysis of what made them exciting — along with recollections of their best moments.

"If you have not seen these plays this is the next best thing. In fact you may even learn more about them than many who have already attended them."

This is the first public project of the Drama Study League following its evaluation and survey of methods to stimulate an interest in the theater and create an appetite for play-going. In September this series which is being initiated in Woodstock will be extended to college, university and club groups throughout the country.

For information relating to "Broadway in Review," the writers' workshops and other programs of the Colony Arts Center, write Box 635, Woodstock.

Taxpayer Group Lists Important Items on Agenda

Several important items are on this month's agenda for the Woodstock Township Association meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Woodstock school auditorium.

The principal item will be the selection of a nominating committee to submit a slate of officers for the annual elections in August.

Two other matters likely to occupy the attention of the taxpayers group is the recent prolonged shutting off of Sully's Bridge and details surrounding the recent pre-trial hearing in the litigation involving the Woodstock Planning Board and Ulster Homes, Inc., of Woodstock, developers of the Streamside Terrace project.

Association president John Melia has requested all available members to attend and participate in the selection of the nominating committee. The committee will consist of three members who will submit their recommendations at the July meeting.

Completing the agenda will be a group discussion on Medicare and the "Liberty Amendment." The upsurge of taxpayer interest in the provisions of the Liberty Amendment (that of removing the Federal government from competing with private enterprise, shows that definite unrest does indeed exist in the taxpayer ranks. Information and particulars on this amendment have been received from the New York State Taxpayers Association.

All standing committees will report, specifically the finance committee under Mrs. Hazel Freitag on arrangements for the annnual bake and promotion. The Emblem Committee wishes the views of the members on the current design. Other reports cover the Town Board meeting and the Planning Board's recent decision on the Streamside development.

Members are advised that copies of the constitution and by-laws were mailed out this week. If any member did not receive his copy, he should check with Lawrence G. Casey at the meeting.

Associationn president John Melia has requested all members to attend. "As always there is a standing invitation to all area taxpayers to attend any meeting of the Taxpayers Association," he said.

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 295): "God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them."

Scramble Through Tunnel

Five Flee, East Germans Kill Own

BERLIN (AP)-- A West Berlin student led four East Germans through a tunnel to safety in the West Monday night after escaping a hail of gunfire from Red border guards who accidentally killed one of their own men.

Two other students helped the refugees scramble through the 90-foot tunnel under the Red wall dividing Berlin moments before the East German border guards sprayed the underground escape route with machinegun fire and tear gas grenades.

Thwart Nine Others

The Communist action thwarted the flight of nine other East Germans, and at least five of them were taken into custody.

The West Berlin students had dug the tunnel from the American sector of West Berlin to a house on the Communist side. The students said the work took a month, and that they arranged to use the tunnel for the first time Monday to bring out 13 East Germans, mostly women and children.

"We didn't know when we broke through whether the Vopos (East German police) would be waiting for us with tommy guns at the ready or bash in our skulls with their jackboots," one student said.

Ran for His Life

Two students waited at the western end of the tunnel to help haul the escapees through on a metal stretcher pulled by ropes. The third went 200 yards into Communist territory to guide the first group of escapees—two women, 26 and 22, and two boys, 11 and 5.

The guide said he was leading the group to the building when an East German guard challenged them. The student fumbled for his identification papers to distract attention from the women and children. They reached the building about the time Red guards in a nearby pillbox opened fire.

"The Vopo was hit and fell on the sidewalk," the guide said. "I ran for my life with bullets whizzing after me."

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Paul Knauer, 67, who founded and directed the pro-Nazi German-American Citizens' Alliance, died Sunday of cancer. Knauer was stripped of U.S. citizenship in 1944 and deported to Germany. He regained entry to the United States five years ago.

Continues Strike Talks at Ford; Sees Settlement

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations between Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union on a strike that has idled 50,000 workers continued today as Henry Ford II predicted settlement within a week.

"I will be surprised if it is not settled within a week at the outside," the board chairman told a news conference at Los Angeles Monday, referring to the strike at the Walton Hills, Ohio, stamping plant.

But negotiators in Dearborn reported no progress in a five-hour session Monday. Talks were to resume today.

Ford said his company did not intend to meet union demands at the struck plant near Cleveland. He said: "We want to run our own plants, we don't want the unions to run them."

The UAW had no immediate comment.

A dispute over work standards led a walkout June 6 by the stamping plant's 3,200 workers. Ford said a resulting parts shortage forced it to close down its 16 auto assembly plants and some manufacturing operations last week.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Tuesday, June 26 from 9 to 10 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

Ran for His Life

Two students waited at the western end of the tunnel to help haul the escapees through on a metal stretcher pulled by ropes. The third went 200 yards into Communist territory to guide the first group of escapees—two women, 26 and 22, and two boys, 11 and 5.

The guide said he was leading the group to the building when an East German guard challenged them. The student fumbled for his identification papers to distract attention from the women and children. They reached the building about the time Red guards in a nearby pillbox opened fire.

"The Vopo was hit and fell on the sidewalk," the guide said. "I ran for my life with bullets whizzing after me."

Continues Strike Talks at Ford; Sees Settlement

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations between Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union on a strike that has idled 50,000 workers continued today as Henry Ford II predicted settlement within a week.

"I will be surprised if it is not settled within a week at the outside," the board chairman told a news conference at Los Angeles Monday, referring to the strike at the Walton Hills, Ohio, stamping plant.

But negotiators in Dearborn reported no progress in a five-hour session Monday. Talks were to resume today.

Ford said his company did not intend to meet union demands at the struck plant near Cleveland. He said: "We want to run our own plants, we don't want the unions to run them."

The UAW had no immediate comment.

A dispute over work standards led a walkout June 6 by the stamping plant's 3,200 workers. Ford said a resulting parts shortage forced it to close down its 16 auto assembly plants and some manufacturing operations last week.

After that she goes into tryout tour of "A Short Happy Life," play based upon the works of Ernest Hemingway.

Bacall Taught Dance

BULLDOZED HISTORY

The cities and towns of America are not only spreading out, but their faces are changing. They are taking on a new look, compounded of glass, steel and concrete, in both high-rise and low, sprawling structures.

Nobody proposes to halt this growth. Probably nobody could if he were minded to try. But there are some complainers who allege that the new look is sweeping too clean.

They argue that the rush to convert to glass and steel is destroying a lot of this country's architectural heritage. Already lost to the wrecking ball in many communities are countless landmarks—curious if not always handsome reminders of our earlier history.

Sometimes these changes occur without a flicker of protest. On other occasions they are accompanied by much public handwringing. But only rarely is a building saved.

The trouble is, the cruel economics of urban space intervene. With community taxes frequently on the rise, old, outmoded structures cannot pull their weight in revenue returns. They become a costly burden to their owners. The alternative of a high-yield apartment or office or store seems irresistible.

To ask the communities involved to save the historic structures is usually to ask them to make an investment in history—in city "atmosphere"—which they seldom can afford. Generally they are in desperate need of the tax revenues from "more productive" structures.

Author Thornton Wilder once described Europe as a "great, aching museum." After the ruin of World War II, it, too, took on a "modern face." But Europeans appear to have been much more interested than we in preserving their visible history. Sometimes they have saved old buildings through public subscription.

Not many Americans seem inclined to copy that practice. Though our history is rich and exciting, we do not savor it as some others do theirs.

Probably we are missing a great deal. The understanding gained from a knowledge of the past is obvious. Beyond this, putting ourselves firmly in the stream of time adds measurably to our sense of belonging.

Reading of the past is the big way. But there can be incomparable benefit for many of us in moving about in the presence of history, in being able to look at buildings which have its stamp upon them.

De Gaulle, irked by a military tribunal's failure to sentence Salan to death, considers altering the judicial system. If you can't lick 'em, change 'em.

FAMINE IN CHINA

Dispatches from the Portuguese island colony of Macao, 65 miles south of Canton, give further indication that Communist China is undergoing widespread unrest because of food shortages. Refugees from Canton, arriving by way of the sea, report that some 10,000 disgruntled Chinese were involved in the riots that broke out there when railroad tickets to points near the Hong Kong escape route were refused.

Such evidence of trouble in China prompts an ambivalent reaction. There is gratification that the Communist regime is having trouble. There also can be sorrow because great numbers of Chinese, presumably for the most part under the Communist heel through no wish or fault of their own, are suffering hunger pangs.

It would be foolish to make too much of this situation as a threat to the Peking government. Famine is nothing new to China; it has occurred under a variety of regimes for generations. There is a possibility, however, that failures in food production may yet disenchant the Chinese to such an extent that they will rise up against a government notably incapable of meeting their needs.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE CABINET

George Washington's Cabinet consisted of five members, Thomas Jefferson, Secretary of State, Alexander Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury, Edmund Randolph, Attorney General, General Henry Knox, Secretary of War, and Samuel Osgood, Postmaster General. There were no political parties at the outset and Cabinet members were advisors to the President as well as Administrative officials.

By the time of the Eisenhower Administration, the Cabinet had grown to 10 members, in addition to a Secretary of the Cabinet. Furthermore, the Vice President was given a seat at Cabinet meetings and the heads of various agencies were called in at specific session. A Cabinet meeting took on the aspect of a large committee.

As the size and nature of government changed, the Cabinet took on different characteristics. For instance, Woodrow Wilson's war advisors included such persons as Bernard Baruch, Herbert Hoover, Col. House and others who were not members of his Cabinet at all but to whom were delegated authorities and responsibilities beyond those of Caabinet officers.

The National Security Council, in the Kennedy Administration, consists of the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense, the Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, the Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs and the Deputy Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs. As we are constantly concerned with the problems of war and peace, the heart of the government has been moving from the Cabinet to the National Security Council in both the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations.

Similarly, whereas the Secretary of the Treasury was, at the beginning of our government, the President's advisor on fiscal and economic policy, the President, since 1946, has had a Council of Economic Advisors. Such a document as Alexander Hamilton's "Report on Manufactures" would today come from the Economic Advisors. Statisticians must have more than numbers; they must have sense. Intelligence used to be provided by State, Army and Navy, but now is the function of the Central Intelligence Agency which came into existence in 1947.

Even the newest of governmental functions, the conquest of space, has been turned over to the National Aeronautics and Space Council which consists of the Vice President, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense, the Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

There are a large number of independent agencies which perform Administrative or Administrative and Quasi-judicial functions simultaneously which do not report to any Cabinet officer.

Thus the Cabinet has been relegated to a lesser position and its members have become largely Administrative functinaries whom the President consults concerning their particular offices but not concerning political or general policy.

The change in attitude toward the Cabinet has this point of public significance. When Presidents relied upon their Cabinets the people had a better idea as to where the President got his advice and information. It is true that all Presidents have had private friends and close relatives who whispered in their ears and whose advice, at times, might have been of value. Lincoln, it is known, not only disliked but distrusted some of the members of his Cabinet. Franklin D. Roosevelt had little confidence in the judgment of his Secretaries of State and preferred to deal with other members of the State Department.

Nevertheless, the Cabinet was, in public, at any rate, the principal advisory group to the President. Everybody knew who they were and there have been many instances when Cabinet members were as distinguished or more distinguished than the President, as, for instance, the Harding Cabinet which contained such personalities as Charles E. Hughes, Andrew Mellon and Herbert Hoover.

When a President ignores his Cabinet, he lays himself open to the assumption that he is in the hands of secret advisors. The term, "Kitchen Cabinet," expresses the public concern in such extra-curricular activities. It does not respect a Kitchen Cabinet or its members. We are not a secretive people and all forms of secrecy tend to breed extraordinary and undue interest. Col. House's activities in the Wilson Administration stirred the imagination of citizens beyond reasonable truth. In the eyes of the public, the Cabinet remains a road-block against a President going wrong—although it has not always served this purpose.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Kennedy's admission that he may have a make up a "priority list" of proposals that he wants Congress to act on before adjournment is based on a realistic appraisal of today's legislative log jam.

ONLY 74 BILLS have been passed by Congress and signed into law by the President so far this year. Only three of these are considered important — manpower retraining, union welfare fund reporting and tariff reclassification. Forty-seven others have been passed by one chamber but not the other. Congress passed 400 laws last year and if it beats that total this year it will be a spectacular finish.

The surprising thing about this session is that it has cleared the way for passage of as much controversial legislation as it has. This has been done in spite of charges that it is a "do-nothing" Congress.

The fact is that many of the Kennedy proposals are so complicated and technical that they have required long hearings. This has created the log jam. When it starts to break, everything may go through in an awful rush.

If it doesn't, there may have to be a lame-duck session after election to clean up the debris.

ANY ACTION NOT COMPLETED this year must be started from the beginning again before the next Congress. This is the countdown today:

Civil Defense shelters: Passed Senate but little House enthusiasm for it.

Aid to education: Passed Senate. Dead in House. College construction aid, college scholarships, medical and dental education aids, improvement of teaching: All may be considered as a package, with a compromise on funds allotted to each. But the House may not yield in its opposition to scholarships.

Communications satellite: Passed House without difficulty but must overcome Kefauver opposition in Senate.

Consumer protection: Doubtful. Low priority.

Campaign contribution limits: No action yet.

Conflict of interest: Passed House. Estes case should spur Senate action, but proposal is on doubtful list.

Debt limit increase to $308 billion: June 30 deadline.

FARM PROGRAM: Senate passage easier than anticipated. Estes case may soften House GOP opposition. New GOP policy statement endorses massive land retirement features.

Federal pay raise: Increase for scientists likely with small across-board raise for others. request will be cut.

Literacy test for voters: Killed in Senate.

Medical care for aged: Toughest fight this year. What congressmen are looking for—but can't find—is a compromise formula that would cover only catastrophic illness.

Postal rate increase: Passed House. Expected to squeak through with special second class provisions for small magazines that otherwise might be put out of business.

Public works to relieve unemployment: Passed Senate. Cost a question and fear of giving President too much power.

Poll tax repeal: Passed Senate. Needs Republican votes to clear Senate Finance Committee hurdle.

Trade Expansion: In surprisingly good shape.

Transportation policy: A question of costs. Also, rural areas oppose helping cities on urban transport.

UN bond issue: Comes up after foreign aid.

Welfare rehabilitation: Passed House and cleared by Senate Finance Committee. Final approval seems certain.

Wiretap authorization: Never has caught on.

Wilderness recreation and conservation: Passed Senate. Something in it for everyone, so could go through.

Youth training and Youth Conservation Corps: Some question of whether there will be enough money for them.

Sugar Act: Must be extended this year but looks like another last minute battle, as usual.

UNEMPLOYMENT Insurance extension: Temporary extension runs out June 30, but legislation moves slowly.

Compulsory ultra high frequency channels on new television sets: Has passed House. Since educational television act sailed through, this one looks likely.

Department of Urban Affairs: No chance this year.

Injection—or Tablet?
Each Has Its Place

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Will you settle an argument for our high school class? Our biology teacher says that penicilin tablets are just as good as "shots." Yet most of us get penicillin shots when we have infections. If the tablets are just as good, why do we get "shots" that sometimes hurt?

A—Until a few years ago, we did not possess a penicillin that resisted digestion when swallowed. So, at that time penicillin had to be given by injection. Now, we do have penicillins that are not destroyed or inactivated by stomach acid or by stomach enzymes.

When these preparations, such as phenoxybenzylpenicillin, are given by mouth, they are capable of producing sufficient high and sustained levels in blood serum to destroy most of the common bacterial invaders, such as staphytococci, streptococci and pneumococci.

So, by far and large, for the treatment of a mild to moderate infection with an organism that is responsive to penicillin, I would be inclined to agree with your biology teacher.

However, if the infection were of greater severity and the invading organism were known not to be particularly penicillin-sensitive, injection treatment would be distinctly in order.

Q—I had my eardrum blown out in a recent explosion. Can this damage be repaired, as I have constant buzzing and some loss of hearing?

A—Repair of ruptured drum membranes is being succesfully accomplished by a variety of methods. Some specialists, under certain circumstances, close the opening with grafts of skin or the wall of a vein. Others attempt cauterization of the margins with acids after which a scaffold of cotton, membrane or polyethylene is laid down to direct the growth of the reactive tissue. In expert hands, results are highly satisfactory, according to a report in the (March) Archives of Otolaryngology.

Q—Is it safe to sniff snuff or chew tobacco as a means for kicking the cigarette habit?

A—No. In a recent series of 112 patients with cancers of the mouth and throat, there were six snuff dippers and three tobacco chewers. Only five who never used tobacco in any form were included. And, of the smokers, 90 per cent used cigarettes, 8 per cent were predominently cigar smokers and 2 per cent were pipe smokers.

Thus, while tobacco is not the only cause for the development of cancers in these exposed areas, it is a "major cause" in the view of Drs. W. I. Dunn and R. T. Farior who made these studies.

And, as you can see, switching to snuff or chewing tobacco isn't going to profit you much as a means for cancer prevention.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

The Maverick Theater, Woodstock, was due to open its season with "The Philadelphia Story."

Area state guard units were training at Camp Smith, Peekskill.

June 19, 1952—Removal of 24 alleys in the former Ruzzo Bowlatorium was started.

The final four miles of Route 214 between Phoenicia and Stony Clove, known as the Notch Road, were scheduled to be rebuilt.

Common Council action at a recessed meeting ruled against dumping in an area bounded by Sterling, Summer and Valley Streets.

Republican Declaration Seen Skirting Main Issue

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There is something missing on the national scene. There's a noticeable absence of militancy on the part of most of the Republicans. They are exactly acquiescing in what the Kennedy Administration is doing, but they certainly are not giving the country the vigorous criticism expected from the "loyal opposition" party.

It's true that two weeks ago the Republican membership of the Senate and House issued "a declaration of Republican principle and policy," but it hasn't awakened, in the electorate throughout the country, any crusading enthusiasm.

Maybe it's because the statement was phrased in a lot of highfaultin' words and didn't get down to brass tacks. What the voters like to hear is something direct and simple that they can understand. They want to know when things are going to get better and who is going to make them better. They might even be persuaded to believe that the Republican party is the party of "good business" and that the Democratic party is the party of "bad business"—if somebody of prominence in every Congressional district could explain that to them in understandable terms and phrases.

The Republican statement of a fortnight ago started out by defining as "the great issue of 1962" this question: "Which party acts more effectively to preserve and enlarge human freedom?" This, in itself, is a very abstract query. The statement might better have said flatly that the real issue is: "Which party gives you a chance to earn more money and keep more money—and which party gives you assurance that you'll continue to have your job and that there will be a job for your boy when he gets out of school?"

Brief in Summary

Instead, the Republicans described the main issue in four sentences of their declaration of principles as follows:

"The current administration has shown little understanding of or concern for, institutions that buttress freedom at home—separation powers, checks and balances, state and local responsibility, and a free competitive economy. It has demonstrated neither the wit nor the will to meet effectively the assault of international communism on freedom.

"We Republicans cannot witness the erosion of freedom without warning or protest. We purpose a new direction for public policy in order to advance the cause of freedom at home and throughout the world."

Lacking in Clarity

This may all be very sound, but it's hardly concrete enough for the perplexed voter to grasp. The statement, moreover, declared that Republican philosophy "rests on the doctrines that the individual has a God-given dignity and that government exists to serve him" and that "government should do for people only the things they cannot do for themselves." This reads well enough for those who are familiar with the debate between the exponents of centralized power and the believers in less meddling by government. But it doesn't tell the average man what a growing dictatorship in government means to his everyday life and his future. It doesn't tell him that, since the days of our forefathers, the threat of an all-powerful government and a police state has been hanging over this republic and has to be constantly fought as it rears its head each time an emergency arises in the economic life of the country.

The trouble with the Republicans is that lately they have not been aggressive in politics. They are too restrained. They like to get everybody to agree on generalities. The difficulty with statements of principle is that, after everybody put in his two cents' worth at the party conferences, the result is a namby-pamby utterance which doesn't arouse the voters to get into the fight and to enlist their friends and neighbors, too.

Pocketbook Issue

There is only one issue on the domestic front that counts. It's based on the pocketbook. Things are not going well nowadays. The stock market drop reflects a widespread uneasiness about the man at the wheel in the White House. He himself isn't up for re-election this year. But if more radicals and rubber-stamp Representatives and Senators are elected this November, the coalition of non-Socialists from the North and South, which in the last 15 years has saved America from state socialism, will be weakened and perhaps rendered powerless to stem the tide. Business then would get worse, and unemployment would rise.

For the real issue of 1962 is whether private business is going to be permitted to function naturally and to expand normally, or whether government is going to try to run everything. The Republicans can, in the 1962 campaign, draw this line clearly. The people can come to understand the effects on their wages, their salaries, their savings and their opportunities to move ahead toward a better life. The people don't understand "sophisticated" ideas, but they do understand dollars and cents and the worries that come with recessions and depression.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Captain Andrew Hickey, USN, (ret) author and historian was interested in an item in this column concerning the Peckham Motor Truck and Wheel Co. which was where Electrol is today on Grand Street. Back around 1925 he was on his way from the naval base in Argentina on a trolley car. There was a stopover and the conductor was absent so meanwhile Captain Hickey was looking around the trolley car. He noticed the name, Peckham Motor Truck and Wheel Co., Kingston, New York. There was a product manufactured right here in Kingston and doing duty some 6,500 miles away. We could have had some of those old trolley-cars with the local wheels and platform on display in the proper setting right here in Kingston. No doubt at some trolley-car museum the Kingston-made Peckham product is used.

I received a telephone call from Pearl Rightmyer of 60 Abruyn Street and she was interested in the item of the repairing of the Ponnckhockie Congregational Church steeple on Abruyn Street. She has a history of that church which was written by Sadie Schutt when the church was in its 94th year of service. Miss Rightmyer invited me to come down and see this book and some other items.

I appreciate all the invitations and try to get around to as many as I can, but it just seems the day is over before I can accomplish as much as I plan the evening before. Sometimes I mislay an address or telephone number and if I look for it frantically then I find everything else I have been looking for except the one particular one. For the longest time I have been trying to return an item to Mrs. M. V. Bryant, R. 3 Kingston, an interesting 1890 Van Loan Catskill Mt. Guide. I want to visit John Burroughs' Slabsides and follow up a number of phone calls to see local books and other material and hope to do, little by little.

I had a nice telephone visit with Mrs. Herdman who is 93 years old. She has a lively voice and is full of fun and an excellent memory. She says to keep her mind sharp and when she is lonesome she repeats poetry she learned as a child. It is not too easy for her to get around, so her pleasure is talking to folks about old times around here.

The other day Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rudolph of Eddyville, left some items with me. Mrs. Julius (Leola Benton) Rudolph is a retired postmistress, and her husband a retired plumber from Kingston. His place of business was where the Cablevision office is today, Pearl and Wall Streets. No doubt many folks in Town of Esopus and County of Ulster remember the late Daniel W. Benton, a prominent preacher and also served as coroner.

Daniel W. Benton's great grandfather was Christopher Darrow, a soldier of the Revolution, who was with Washington during that famous winter at Valley Forge and who at the end of the war settled in town of Neversink, and became the first school teacher. Daniel W. Benton was born in the log cabin homestead on September 13, 1845, then the property was owned by Samuel R. Benton, Daniel's father. Daniel spent his summer months growing up and working on the farm and going to school and he also became a teacher and taught there till 1860 when he moved to Esopus and married and set up his own homestead. He taught for some 10 years and studied further to become a minister and later held various offices in the town of Esopus. He was a member of the board of supervisors, a justice of peace, assessor and town auditor. In 1900 he sold his farm and moved into Port Ewen, where he kept an office and in 1910 moved to Kingston. He was one of the coroners of Ulster County during the building of the Ashokan Reservoir.

BULLDOZED HISTORY

The cities and towns of America are not only spreading out, but their faces are changing. They are taking on a new look, compounded of glass, steel and concrete, in both high-rise and low, sprawling structures.

Nobody proposes to halt this growth. Probably nobody could if he were minded to try. But there are some complainers who allege that the new look is sweeping too clean.

They argue that the rush to convert to glass and steel is destroying a lot of this country's architectural heritage. Already lost to the wrecking ball in many communities are countless landmarks—curious if not always handsome reminders of our earlier history.

Sometimes these changes occur without a flicker of protest. On other occasions they are accompanied by much public handwringing. But only rarely is a building saved.

The trouble is, the cruel economics of urban space intervene. With community taxes frequently on the rise, old, outmoded structures cannot pull their weight in revenue returns. They become a costly burden to their owners. The alternative of a high-yield apartment or office or store seems irresistible.

To ask the communities involved to save the historic structures is usually to ask them to make an investment in history—in city "atmosphere"—which they seldom can afford. Generally they are in desperate need of the tax revenues from "more productive" structures.

Author Thornton Wilder once described Europe as a "great, aching museum." After the ruin of World War II, it, too, took on a "modern face." But Europeans appear to have been much more interested than we in preserving their visible history. Sometimes they have saved old buildings through public subscription.

Not many Americans seem inclined to copy that practice. Though our history is rich and exciting, we do not savor it as some others do theirs.

Probably we are missing a great deal. The understanding gained from a knowledge of the past is obvious. Beyond this, putting ourselves firmly in the stream of time adds measurably to our sense of belonging.

Reading of the past is the big way. But there can be incomparable benefit for many of us in moving about in the presence of history, in being able to look at buildings which have its stamp upon them.

De Gaulle, irked by a military tribunal's failure to sentence Salan to death, considers altering the judicial system. If you can't lick 'em, change 'em.

FAMINE IN CHINA

Dispatches from the Portuguese island colony of Macao, 65 miles south of Canton, give further indication that Communist China is undergoing widespread unrest because of food shortages. Refugees from Canton, arriving by way of the sea, report that some 10,000 disgruntled Chinese were involved in the riots that broke out there when railroad tickets to points near the Hong Kong escape route were refused.

Such evidence of trouble in China prompts an ambivalent reaction. There is gratification that the Communist regime is having trouble. There also can be sorrow because great numbers of Chinese, presumably for the most part under the Communist heel through no wish or fault of their own, are suffering hunger pangs.

It would be foolish to make too much of this situation as a threat to the Peking government. Famine is nothing new to China; it has occurred under a variety of regimes for generations. There is a possibility, however, that failures in food production may yet disenchant the Chinese to such an extent that they will rise up against a government notably incapable of meeting their needs.

'These Days'

THE CABINET

George Washington's Cabinet consisted of five members, Thomas Jefferson, Secretary of State, Alexander Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury, Edmund Randolph, Attorney General, General Henry Knox, Secretary of War, and Samuel Osgood, Postmaster General. There were no political parties at the outset and Cabinet members were advisors to the President as well as Administrative officials.

By the time of the Eisenhower Administration, the Cabinet had grown to 10 members, in addition to a Secretary of the Cabinet. Furthermore, the Vice President was given a seat at Cabinet meetings and the heads of various agencies were called in at specific session. A Cabinet meeting took on the aspect of a large committee.

As the size and nature of government changed, the Cabinet took on different characteristics. For instance, Woodrow Wilson's war advisors included such persons as Bernard Baruch, Herbert Hoover, Col. House and others who were not members of his Cabinet at all but to whom were delegated authorities and responsibilities beyond those of Caabinet officers.

The National Security Council, in the Kennedy Administration, consists of the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense, the Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, the Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs and the Deputy Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs. As we are constantly concerned with the problems of war and peace, the heart of the government has been moving from the Cabinet to the National Security Council in both the Eisenhower and Kennedy Administrations.

Similarly, whereas the Secretary of the Treasury was, at the beginning of our government, the President's advisor on fiscal and economic policy, the President, since 1946, has had a Council of Economic Advisors. Such a document as Alexander Hamilton's "Report on Manufactures" would today come from the Economic Advisors. Statisticians must have more than numbers; they must have sense. Intelligence used to be provided by State, Army and Navy, but now is the function of the Central Intelligence Agency which came into existence in 1947.

Even the newest of governmental functions, the conquest of space, has been turned over to the National Aeronautics and Space Council which consists of the Vice President, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense, the Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

There are a large number of independent agencies which perform Administrative or Administrative and Quasi-judicial functions simultaneously which do not report to any Cabinet officer.

Thus the Cabinet has been relegated to a lesser position and its members have become largely Administrative functinaries whom the President consults concerning their particular offices but not concerning political or general policy.

The change in attitude toward the Cabinet has this point of public significance. When Presidents relied upon their Cabinets the people had a better idea as to where the President got his advice and information. It is true that all Presidents have had private friends and close relatives who whispered in their ears and whose advice, at times, might have been of value. Lincoln, it is known, not only disliked but distrusted some of the members of his Cabinet. Franklin D. Roosevelt had little confidence in the judgment of his Secretaries of State and preferred to deal with other members of the State Department.

Nevertheless, the Cabinet was, in public, at any rate, the principal advisory group to the President. Everybody knew who they were and there have been many instances when Cabinet members were as distinguished or more distinguished than the President, as, for instance, the Harding Cabinet which contained such personalities as Charles E. Hughes, Andrew Mellon and Herbert Hoover.

When a President ignores his Cabinet, he lays himself open to the assumption that he is in the hands of secret advisors. The term, "Kitchen Cabinet," expresses the public concern in such extra-curricular activities. It does not respect a Kitchen Cabinet or its members. We are not a secretive people and all forms of secrecy tend to breed extraordinary and undue interest. Col. House's activities in the Wilson Administration stirred the imagination of citizens beyond reasonable truth. In the eyes of the public, the Cabinet remains a road-block against a President going wrong—although it has not always served this purpose.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Kennedy's admission that he may have a make up a "priority list" of proposals that he wants Congress to act on before adjournment is based on a realistic appraisal of today's legislative log jam.

ONLY 74 BILLS have been passed by Congress and signed into law by the President so far this year. Only three of these are considered important — manpower retraining, union welfare fund reporting and tariff reclassification. Forty-seven others have been passed by one chamber but not the other. Congress passed 400 laws last year and if it beats that total this year it will be a spectacular finish.

The surprising thing about this session is that it has cleared the way for passage of as much controversial legislation as it has. This has been done in spite of charges that it is a "do-nothing" Congress.

The fact is that many of the Kennedy proposals are so complicated and technical that they have required long hearings. This has created the log jam. When it starts to break, everything may go through in an awful rush.

If it doesn't, there may have to be a lame-duck session after election to clean up the debris.

ANY ACTION NOT COMPLETED this year must be started from the beginning again before the next Congress. This is the countdown today:

Civil Defense shelters: Passed Senate but little House enthusiasm for it.

Aid to education: Passed Senate. Dead in House.

College construction aid, college scholarships, medical and dental education aids, improvement of teaching: All may be considered as a package, with a compromise on funds allotted to each. But the House may not yield in its opposition to scholarships.

Communications satellite: Passed House without difficulty but must overcome Kefauver opposition in Senate.

Consumer protection: Doubtful. Low priority.

Campaign contribution limits: No action yet.

Conflict of interest: Passed House. Estes case should spur Senate action, but proposal is on doubtful list.

Debt limit increase to $308 billion: June 30 deadline.

FARM PROGRAM: Senate passage easier than anticipated. Estes case may soften House GOP opposition. New GOP policy statement endorses massive land retirement features.

Federal pay raise: Increase for scientists likely with small across-board raise for others. request will be cut.

Literacy test for voters: Killed in Senate.

Medical care for aged: Toughest fight this year. What congressmen are looking for—but can't find—is a compromise formula that would cover only catastrophic illness.

Postal rate increase: Passed House. Expected to squeak through with special second class provisions for small magazines that otherwise might be put out of business.

Public works to relieve unemployment: Passed Senate. Cost a question and fear of giving President too much power.

Poll tax repeal: Passed Senate. Needs Republican votes to clear Senate Finance Committee hurdle.

Trade Expansion: In surprisingly good shape.

Transportation policy: A question of costs. Also, rural areas oppose helping cities on urban transport.

UN bond issue: Comes up after foreign aid.

Welfare rehabilitation: Passed House and cleared by Senate Finance Committee. Final approval seems certain.

Wiretap authorization: Never has caught on.

Wilderness recreation and conservation: Passed Senate. Something in it for everyone, so could go through.

Youth training and Youth Conservation Corps: Some question of whether there will be enough money for them.

Sugar Act: Must be extended this year but looks like another last minute battle, as usual.

UNEMPLOYMENT Insurance extension: Temporary extension runs out June 30, but legislation moves slowly.

Compulsory ultra high frequency channels on new television sets: Has passed House. Since educational television act sailed through, this one looks likely.

Department of Urban Affairs: No chance this year.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Injection—or Tablet? Each Has Its Place

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Will you settle an argument for our high school class? Our biology teacher says that penicilin tablets are just as good as "shots." Yet most of us get penicillin shots when we have infections. If the tablets are just as good, why do we get "shots" that sometimes hurt?

A—Until a few years ago, we did not possess a penicillin that resisted digestion when swallowed. So, at that time penicillin had to be given by injection. Now, we do have penicillins that are not destroyed or inactivated by stomach acid or by stomach enzymes.

When these preparations, such as phenoxybenzylpenicillin, are given by mouth, they are capable of producing sufficient high and sustained levels in blood serum to destroy most of the common bacterial invaders, such as staphytococci, streptococci and pneumococci.

So, by far and large, for the treatment of a mild to moderate infection with an organism that is responsive to penicillin, I would be inclined to agree with your biology teacher.

However, if the infection were of greater severity and the invading organism were known not to be particularly penicillin-sensitive, injection treatment would be distinctly in order.

Q—I had my eardrum blown out in a recent explosion. Can this damage be repaired, as I have constant buzzing and some loss of hearing?

A—Repair of ruptured drum membranes is being succesfully accomplished by a variety of methods. Some specialists, under certain circumstances, close the opening with grafts of skin or the wall of a vein. Others attempt cauterization of the margins with acids after which a scaffold of cotton, membrane or polyethylene is laid down to direct the growth of the reactive tissue. In expert hands, results are highly satisfactory, according to a report in the (March) Archives of Otolaryngology.

Q—Is it safe to sniff snuff or chew tobacco as a means for kicking the cigarette habit?

A—No. In a recent series of 112 patients with cancers of the mouth and throat, there were six snuff dippers and three tobacco chewers. Only five who never used tobacco in any form were included. And, of the smokers, 90 per cent used cigarettes, 8 per cent were predominently cigar smokers and 2 per cent were pipe smokers.

Thus, while tobacco is not the only cause for the development of cancers in these exposed areas, it is a "major cause" in the view of Drs. W. I. Dunn and R. T. Farior who made these studies.

And, as you can see, switching to snuff or chewing tobacco isn't going to profit you much as a means for cancer prevention.

Republican Declaration Seen Skirting Main Issue

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There is something missing on the national scene. There's a noticeable absence of militancy on the part of most of the Republicans. They are exactly acquiescing in what the Kennedy Administration is doing, but they certainly are not giving the country the vigorous criticism expected from the "loyal opposition" party.

It's true that two weeks ago the Republican membership of the Senate and House issued "a declaration of Republican principle and policy," but it hasn't awakened, in the electorate throughout the country, any crusading enthusiasm.

Maybe it's because the statement was phrased in a lot of highfaultin' words and didn't get down to brass tacks. What the voters like to hear is something direct and simple that they can understand. They want to know when things are going to get better and who is going to make them better. They might even be persuaded to believe that the Republican party is the party of "good business" and that the Democratic party is the party of "bad business"—if somebody of prominence in every Congressional district could explain that to them in understandable terms and phrases.

The Republican statement of a fortnight ago started out by defining as "the great issue of 1962" this question: "Which party acts more effectively to preserve and enlarge human freedom?" This, in itself, is a very abstract query. The statement might better have said flatly that the real issue is: "Which party gives you a chance to earn more money and keep more money—and which party gives you assurance that you'll continue to have your job and that there will be a job for your boy when he gets out of school?"

Brief in Summary

Instead, the Republicans described the main issue in four sentences of their declaration of principles as follows:

"The current administration has shown little understanding of or concern for, institutions that buttress freedom at home—separation powers, checks and balances, state and local responsibility, and a free competitive economy. It has demonstrated neither the wit nor the will to meet effectively the assault of international communism on freedom.

"We Republicans cannot witness the erosion of freedom without warning or protest. We purpose a new direction for public policy in order to advance the cause of freedom at home and throughout the world."

Lacking in Clarity

This may all be very sound, but it's hardly concrete enough for the perplexed voter to grasp. The statement, moreover, declared that Republican philosophy "rests on the doctrines that the individual has a God-given dignity and that government exists to serve him" and that "government should do for people only the things they cannot do for themselves." This reads well enough for those who are familiar with the debate between the exponents of centralized power and the believers in less meddling by government. But it doesn't tell the average man what a growing dictatorship in government means to his everyday life and his future. It doesn't tell him that, since the days of our forefathers, the threat of an all-powerful government and a police state has been hanging over this republic and has to be constantly fought as it rears its head each time an emergency arises in the economic life of the country.

The trouble with the Republicans is that lately they have not been aggressive in politics. They are too restrained. They like to get everybody to agree on generalities. The difficulty with statements of principle is that, after everybody put in his two cents' worth at the party conferences, the result is a namby-pamby utterance which doesn't arouse the voters to get into the fight and to enlist their friends and neighbors, too.

Pocketbook Issue

There is only one issue on the domestic front that counts. It's based on the pocketbook. Things are not going well nowadays. The stock market drop reflects a widespread uneasiness about the man at the wheel in the White House. He himself isn't up for re-election this year. But if more radicals and rubber-stamp Representatives and Senators are elected this November, the coalition of non-Socialists from the North and South, which in the last 15 years has saved America from state socialism, will be weakened and perhaps rendered powerless to stem the tide. Business then would get worse, and unemployment would rise.

For the real issue of 1962 is whether private business is going to be permitted to function naturally and to expand normally, or whether government is going to try to run everything. The Republicans can, in the 1962 campaign, draw this line clearly. The people can come to understand the effects on their wages, their salaries, their savings and their opportunities to move ahead toward a better life. The people don't understand "sophisticated" ideas, but they do understand dollars and cents and the worries that come with recessions and depression.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Captain Andrew Hickey, USN, (ret) author and historian was interested in an item in this column concerning the Peckham Motor Truck and Wheel Co. which was where Electrol is today on Grand Street. Back around 1925 he was on his way from the naval base in Argentina on a trolley car. There was a stopover and the conductor was absent so meanwhile Captain Hickey was looking around the trolley car. He noticed the name, Peckham Motor Truck and Wheel Co., Kingston, New York. There was a product manufactured right here in Kingston and doing duty some 6,500 miles away. We could have had some of those old trolley-cars with the local wheels and platform on display in the proper setting right here in Kingston. No doubt at some trolley-car museum the Kingston-made Peckham product is used.

I received a telephone call from Pearl Rightmyer of 60 Abruyn Street and she was interested in the item of the repairing of the Ponnekhockie Congregational Church steeple on Abruyn Street. She has a history of that church which was written by Sadie Schutt when the church was in its 94th year of service. Miss Rightmyer invited me to come down and see this book and some other items.

I appreciate all the invitations and try to get around to as many as I can, but it just seems the day is over before I can accomplish as much as I plan the evening before. Sometimes I mislay an address or telephone number and if I look for it frantically then I find everything else I have been looking for except the one particular one. For the longest time I have been trying to return an item to Mrs. M. V. Bryant, R. 3 Kingston, an interesting 1890 Van Loan Catskill Mt. Guide. I want to visit John Burroughs' Slabsides and follow up a number of phone calls to see local books and other material and hope to do, little by little.

I had a nice telephone visit with Mrs. Herdman who is 93 years old. She has a lively voice and is full of fun and an excellent memory. She says to keep her mind sharp and when she is lonesome she repeats poetry she learned as a child. It is not too easy for her to get around, so her pleasure is talking to folks about old times around here.

The other day Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rudolph of Eddyville, left some items with me. Mrs. Julius (Leola Benton) Rudolph is a retired postmistress, and her husband a retired plumber from Kingston. His place of business was where the Cablevision office is today, Pearl and Wall Streets. No doubt many folks in Town of Esopus and County of Ulster remember the late Daniel W. Benton, a prominent preacher and also served as coroner.

Daniel W. Benton's great grandfather was Christopher Darrow, a soldier of the Revolution, who was with Washington during that famous winter at Valley Forge and who at the end of the war settled in town of Neversink, and became the first school teacher. Daniel W. Benton was born in the log cabin homestead on September 13, 1845, then the property was owned by Samuel R. Benton, Daniel's father. Daniel spent his summer months growing up and working on the farm and going to school and he also became a teacher and taught there till 1860 when he moved to Esopus and married and set up his own homestead. He taught for some 10 years and studied further to become a minister and later held various offices in the town of Esopus. He was a member of the board of supervisors, a justice of peace, assessor and town auditor. In 1900 he sold his farm and moved into Port Ewen, where he kept an office and in 1910 moved to Kingston. He was one of the coroners of Ulster County during the building of the Ashokan Reservoir.

Dairymen Await Freeman Answer On Hearing Plea

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Dairymen from the New York-New Jersey milkshed awaited an answer today from the U.S. Agriculture Department to their request for a hearing on new safeguards against shipment of milk into the marketing area.

Three cooperatives representing the dairymen appealed to the department Mo lay for the hearing to seek means of alleviating possibly harmful effects of a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision.

The ruling threatens the existence of the federal-state marketing order for the milkshed, the cooperatives said. The decision bars collection of compensatory payments from outside shippers who send milk into the marketing area.

The petition for a hearing was submitted by the Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency, the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, and the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives.

The compensatory payment was outlawed as the result of a challenge by the Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers of Pennsylvania and Suncrest Farms. They had been required to make payments for outside milk they sold in the New York-New Jersey marketing area.

The Supreme Court said the payments constituted an illegal barrier to trade.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Leighton, the brilliant British stage and screen star, finds television soothing—not watching it, but acting in it.

This is a rare attitude, indeed. Performers usually drag around on the brink of exhaustion and complain about their incipient ulcers.

Rarely on U. S. Video

Miss Leighton, of course, is rarely seen on American television screens, but when she does appear in a program she is usually also working on Broadway.

Wednesday, for instance, she will star in CBS' final dramatic special of the season, "The First Day," which was taped a couple of weeks ago.

Miss Leighton currently is starring in "The Night of the Iguana," Tennessee Williams' Broadway play and during the weeks of rehearsals and taping was working a 16-hour day.

"But after awhile in a play, it is very helpful to have something else to think about," she explained. "After a period in the same play, you develop a sinking feeling—a nervousness—and working on something else takes your mind off it."

In the television play, an original, Miss Leighton portrays a school teacher who has recovered from a mental breakdown.

It seems that the actress—one of the celebrated Old Vic alumnae and one who has played with the most celebrated names in the British theater—recently has been specializing in neurotic, spinster roles.

"I must say," she remarked, "I'm beginning to feel a bit gritty about it. I think it's probably about time I had a comedy to do—before people will think that all I can play are these types of roles."

Hopes for Clearance

Dave Garroway hopes to be cleared by NBC—which still has an option on his services—so he can sit in for Arthur Godfrey for a week or two while the CBS radio star takes a vacation. Garroway will also turn up on next Sunday's CBS "What's My Lineb" and NBC's "TV Guide" awards show.

Carol Burnett and Julie Andrews have fans as devoted as Jack Paar and Elvis Presley, judging from the outpouring of mail scolding this column for its lukewarm review of their recent show.

Wednesday, for instance, she will star in CBS' final dramatic special of the season, "The First Day," which was taped a couple of weeks ago.

Miss Leighton currently is starring in "The Night of the Iguana," Tennessee Williams' Broadway play and during the weeks of rehearsals and taping was working a 16-hour day.

"But after awhile in a play, it is very helpful to have something else to think about," she explained. "After a period in the same play, you develop a sinking feeling—a nervousness—and working on something else takes your mind off it."

In the television play, an original, Miss Leighton portrays a school teacher who has recovered from a mental breakdown.

It seems that the actress—one of the celebrated Old Vic alumnae and one who has played with the most celebrated names in the British theater—recently has been specializing in neurotic, spinster roles.

"I must say," she remarked, "I'm beginning to feel a bit gritty about it. I think it's probably about time I had a comedy to do—before people will think that all I can play are these types of roles."

Hopes for Clearance

Dave Garroway hopes to be cleared by NBC—which still has an option on his services—so he can sit in for Arthur Godfrey for a week or two while the CBS radio star takes a vacation. Garroway will also turn up on next Sunday's CBS "What's My Lineb" and NBC's "TV Guide" awards show.

Carol Burnett and Julie Andrews have fans as devoted as Jack Paar and Elvis Presley, judging from the outpouring of mail scolding this column for its lukewarm review of their recent show.

650 Dropped, More Coming

Wage Boosts Now Mean Rail Layoffs

CHICAGO (AP) — Several railroads have begun laying off nonoperating employes to compensate for a 10.2 cents an hour wage boost negotiated by 11 unions representing 450,000 off-train workers.

The Illinois Central Railroad said Monday it had furloughed 650 employes. Wayne Johnston, president of the line, said it would lay off enough workers to make up the $3.8 million annual cost of the wage increases.

Others Plan Furloughs

Several railroads said they plan to begin furloughing workers. Others said they will study the effect of the wage hike before deciding whether to make work force cutbacks.

The one-year agreement which was reached June 5 followed recommendations of an emergency board appointed by President Kennedy. James E. Wolfe, spokesman for the nation's railroads, estimated the settlement would cost the lines $105 million a year.

The Rock Island Line reported it has laid off 300 workers since May to offset an estimated $2.4 million payroll raise. President H. Ellis Johnson said he expected total layoffs to reach 400 within a month.

A third Chicago-based railroad, the Milwaukee Road, also has begun layoffs. A company spokesman said the line expects to drop 300 or more to make up an estimated $2.5 million in additional wages.

Further Cuts Due

Northern Pacific reports 54 nonoperating employes have been furloughed and further cuts are expected.

The Chicago & North Western said no layoffs have been started yet, but a plan is under discussion. A company official said the wage settlement will cost the firm $2 million or more annually.

The Burlington Road reported the layoff problem is being discussed and the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad said studies were being planned.

A Santa Fe spokesman said, "Higher costs of labor and a slump in carloading may cause some work force adjustments."

In St. Louis, Missouri Pacific announced it has begun laying off workers to offset a $3.3 million addition to its payroll. The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway announced it also is laying off nonoperating employes.

Civil Service Has Job Opportunities

Applications will be accepted until further notice by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for Engineering Aids and Conservation Engineering Aids. Salaries range from $3,500 to $4,00C a year, determined by education and experience of the applicant. No written test is required.

These positions are located at field offices of the Soil Conservation Service in the 12 northeastern states.

Full information and application forms may be obtained from the Civil Service Representative at the local Post Office, or from the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 6816 Market Street, Upper Darby, Pa.

Rusk Begins . . .

likely will come up in the five capitals:

Breakdown of Problems

PARIS—The talks in the French capital will present the toughest problem for Rusk. The positions of Washington and Paris differ on such basic questions as negotiations with the Soviet Union on Berlin, on nuclear armament and the political integration of Europe. All these headaches will come up in one way or another during the two days Rusk will spend in Paris.

BONN—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to continue to insist that reported U.S. proposals to end the Berlin stalemate are unworkable, but Gerhard Schroeder, the West German foreign minister, may be more understanding — at least this is what Washington officials hope for. On the nuclear issue, the secretary will have a smooth sailing in Bonn, as the Germans are satisfied with the present structure with the United States exercising unilateral control over NATO's nuclear force.

London Easiest

LONDON—There will be few if any controversial topics to be discussed in London. Rusk's talks will be more of a working conference character, centered on Britain's desire to join the Common Market.

ROME—The United States is satisfied that despite some flirtation with the left Italy is a staunch partner in NATO.

LISBON—His short stop of less than 24 hours in the Portuguese capital probably won't be too pleasant. Portugal is angry with the United States and maintains that it was abandoned by its NATO allies when India invaded Goa, the Portuguese territory on the Asian peninsula.

Minority Rule

standing could be further changed by recounts that are expected in a number of close races and the absentee military vote, which won't be in until the weekend.

Telling Inroads

The Liberals, who held only 51 seats in the last Parliament, made telling inroads into the huge blocs the Conservatives had in populous Quebec and Ontario provinces.

The biggest surprise in the Conservative setback was the strength of the minor New Democratic and Social Credit parties. The Social Credit party didn't have a single seat in the last Parliament. The New Democratic party previously had eight seats.

The swing away from the Conservatives was even more marked in the popular vote. Out of almost 7 million votes counted early today, the Liberals received 38 per cent and the Conservatives 37 per cent.

The prime minister won reelection easily to the House from Prince Albert, which he has represented since 1953. Four members of his Cabinet fell—Mines Minister Jacques Flynn, Postmaster General William Hamilton, Secretary of State Noel Dorion and Works Minister David J. Walker.

State Sends Probers

The state sent its own investigators here. They found what they termed an atmosphere of "hostility." Mitchell called them "Gestapo agents."

Newburgh's Negro population has risen 150 per cent in the last 10 years from about 2,000 to about 5,000. With 16 per cent of the population, the Negroes represent more than one-third of the welfare cases.

Mitchell's critics admit that there is a high incidence of Negro reliefers. They add that in a short labor market, unskilled Negro labor is usually the hardest hit.

Of the 13 points, which the court called illegal "as a matter of law," only one point was left standing. Physically-able recipients are required to report to the department once a month to pick up their checks.

The most controversial of the other points were: unwed mothers who subsequently bore illegitimate children were to receive no aid; any person who voluntarily left a job would receive no aid; any able-bodied person on relief who turned down any offer of employment was to lose payments; and all aid, except to the blind, disabled and aged, was to be limited to three months in one year and to the same amount as the salary earned by the lowest paid city employe with the same sized family.

The dispute quieted in Newburgh because both sides believe any further action should come on the state or federal level.

No Reason . . .

of meat prices in the Soviet Union.

In 1932 the repair works were the scene of Communist-led strikes against the royal government in which a large number of workers were killed.

The strikes were led by Romania's present Communist party chief, Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej. He was jailed at that time and was held for nine years.

Khrushchev went to the plant early today after staying up late.

He attended a dinner at which he declared: "Between our two Socialist states there exists now as before unity and agreement in all questions."

Talks Resume In Bid to Avert Airlines Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg got negotiators together again today in a final effort to avert an afternoon flight engineers' strike on Trans World Airlines.

Joseph Suskiewich, New York, a member of the engineers negotiating team, said "The strike is on unless we call it off."

Representatives of the airline and two unions—the Flight Engineers and the Pilots Association —stayed at the conference table Monday night until after midnight. Then Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg ordered a recess so they could "do some more work separately."

No Progress

Goldberg declined to say how the talks were going but a spokesman for the flight engineers said, "We made no progress — none whatsoever."

The main issue in the dispute, which has simmered and boiled since the airlines first began using jets, is whether a pilot or an engineer should fill the third seat in the cockpit.

The flight engineers set 2 p.m. EDT today to start their walkout if mediation efforts fail.

President Kennedy has warned the flight engineers not to strike but he has exhausted remedies availabl to him under the Railway Labor Act which governs disputes involving airlines personnel.

As the government worked to stave off a TWA walkout, a strike threat was made against another airline—American.

TWU Plans Strike

The Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, announced in New York it plans a strike of 10,000 ground employes against American at midnight Friday.

The TWU, whose members work in maintenance, communications and storekeeping jobs, has been negotiating with American for several months for a new contract.

Kennedy is expected to block this strike—at least temporarily—by invoking provisions of the Railway Labor Act. Under the act, the strike can be delayed a minimum of 60 days while a presidential fact-finding board studies the dispute and recommends settlement terms.

These procedures have been used up in the TWA-engineers disagreement.

While pressing their walkout threat against TWA, the flight engineers have dropped their threat temporarily against Pan American World Airways and Eastern Air Lines.

The union said this was done in deference to Kennedy's warning that a strike against all three airlines would harm the nation's economy and welfare.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week. No reason was given.

Storm Prober Fired at Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Hurricane-hunting Tiros V rocketed into orbit today to seek the cause of the killer storms and perhaps help devise means of taming them.

A three-stage Thor-Delta rocket blasted off at 7:18 a.m. carrying the fifth in the series of weather-eye satellites.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced more than two hours later that the satellite was in orbit and had transmitted its first series of cloud cover pictures.

A pair of television cameras in the Tiros V made pictures as the satellite completed its first orbit and relayed them instantly to a tracking station at Wallops Island, Va.

Weather experts hope the pictures will provide valuable information on the origin, development and movement of tropical storms born in the 1962 season, which opened last week.

Bowling Business Growth Seems Rather Limited

Q) "Nineteen months ago I bought 50 shares of Brunswick for growth but have lost money. Although this company seems to know steady improvement in earnings, the stock sells lower. Should I hold or switch to something else?" D.M.

A) Brunswick topped out long before the general market for the very simple reason that the bowling equipment business seems to have topped out.

Bowling as a sport will continue to be highly popular, but this country—as it so often does —rushed headlong into the building of bowling alleys to the point where further domestic growth seems rather limited.

The sport is being pushed overseas, where there is a big potential, and Brunswick is in other lines that can be built up. Management is capable and the shares sell at only ten times projected earnings for 1962.

I would hold Brunswick at recent levels, which place a relatively low price tag on future growth.

Q) "We would like to start a college fund for our 6-year-old son but never have invested before. Do I just walk into any brokerage house and ask them to buy $1,000 worth of Long Island Lighting, Miles Laboratories, and Interstate Department Stores?" E.G.

A) It isn't quite as simple as that, but very nearly so.

Since the stocks you have decided to buy are all listed on the New York Stock Exchange, I would look up the names of member firms of that Exchange and do my business with one of them, in this instance.

Opening an account with a member of any stock exchange or good unlisted firm is a relatively simple procedure. You will be asked a few questions about your credit status—perhaps the same questions a good department store would ask if you were opening a charge account.

Since you're dealing with a broker on a full faith and credit basis, he needs to know that you will respect your obligations —as he will his.

Compromise Rule Out on Revision Of Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has rejected a proposed compromise on its embattled tax revision bill, senators said today. The decision left the measure's future highly uncertain.

About the only certainty was that the bill faced still further delay because the Finance Committee is going to put it aside again Wednesday.

The measure has been passed by the House but has been held up in the Senate since April.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the Finance Committee, told a newsman the administration was advised it could have the less controversial parts of the bill.

Such a plan would have meant dropping what the administration considers the three key elements of the revision measure:

—A $1.35-billion investment credit designed as an incentive to business to modernize its plant and equipment.

A withholding plan on dividends and interest.

—Increased taxes on foreign subsidiaries of U.S. companies.

However, Williams said, the proposed compromise would retain numerous loophole-closing provisions, including those affecting savings and loan associations and mutual banks, expense accounts, cooperatives, mutual fire and casualty companies, and foreign tax havens.

The plan was, said Williams, to hitch these and other noncontroversial provisions of the tax bill to a measure extending corporation income taxes and major excise taxes. This bill is to be passed shortly.

But the administration's decision, the Delaware senator reported, was to continue its battle for the entire tax revision bill.

Nytralite Aggregate Inc, a subsidiary of the New York Trap Rock Corp., at its own expense last fall, dredged a channel to their new dockage at Eddyville. If and when the Corps of Army Engineers extends the prescribed channel, "they would assume the responsibility of future channel maintenance," the chamber report said.

A spokesman for Nytralite said today that the plant is operating, but is still in the "breaking-in period." and is not expected to be at capacity before next month. Two barges have been loaded, to date, he said.

Still Needs Dredging

One handler of tugs and barges said the creek still needs dredging in several areas between Eddyville and the Rondout sector. Small craft navigate the stream to the vicinity of the Eddyville falls.

Wage Boosts Now Mean Rail Layoffs

CHICAGO (AP) — Several railroads have begun laying off non-operating employes to compensate for a 10.2 cents an hour wage boost negotiated by 11 unions representing 450,000 off-train workers.

The Illinois Central Railroad said Monday it had furloughed 650 employes. Wayne Johnston, president of the line, said it would lay off enough workers to make up the $3.8 million annual cost of the wage increases.

Others Plan Furloughs

Several railroads said they plan to begin furloughing workers. Others said they will study the effect of the wage hike before deciding whether to make work force cutbacks.

The one-year agreement which was reached June 5 followed recommendations of an emergency board appointed by President Kennedy. James E. Wolfe, spokesman for the nation's railroads, estimated the settlement would cost the lines $105 million a year.

The Rock Island Line reported it has laid off 300 workers since May to offset an estimated $2.4 million payroll raise. President H. Ellis Johnson said he expected total layoffs to reach 400 within a month.

A third Chicago-based railroad, the Milwaukee Road, also has begun layoffs. A company spokesman said the line expects to drop 300 or more to make up an estimated $2.5 million in additional wages.

Further Cuts Due

Northern Pacific reports 54 non-operating employes have been furloughed and further cuts are expected.

The Chicago & North Western said no layoffs have been started yet, but a plan is under discussion. A company official said the wage settlement will cost the firm $2 million or more annually.

The Burlington Road reported the layoff problem is being discussed and the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad said studies were being planned.

A Santa Fe spokesman said, "Higher costs of labor and a slump in carloading may cause some work force adjustments."

In St. Louis, Missouri Pacific announced it has begun laying off workers to offset a $3.3 million addition to its payroll. The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway announced it also is laying off non-operating employes.

Civil Service Has Job Opportunities

Applications will be accepted until further notice by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for Engineering Aids and Conservation Engineering Aids. Salaries range from $3,500 to $4,000 a year, determined by education and experience of the applicant. No written test is required.

These positions are located at field offices of the Soil Conservation Service in the 12 northeastern states.

Full information and application forms may be obtained from the Civil Service Representative at the local Post Office, or from the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 6816 Market Street, Upper Darby, Pa.

Rusk Begins . . .

likely will come up in the five capitals:

Breakdown of Problems

PARIS—The talks in the French capital will present the toughest problem for Rusk. The positions of Washington and Paris differ on such basic questions as negotiations with the Soviet Union on Berlin, on nuclear armament and the political integration of Europe. All these headaches will come up in one way or another during the two days Rusk will spend in Paris.

BONN—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to continue to insist that reported U.S. proposals to end the Berlin stalemate are unworkable, but Gerhard Schroeder, the West German foreign minister, may be more understanding — at least this is what Washington officials hope for. On the nuclear issue, the secretary will have a smooth sailing in Bonn, as the Germans are satisfied with the present structure with the United States exercising unilateral control over NATO's nuclear force.

London Easiest

LONDON—There will be few if any controversial topics to be discussed in London. Rusk's talks will be more of a working conference character, centered on Britain's desire to join the Common Market.

ROME—The United States is satisfied that despite some flirtation with the left Italy is a staunch partner in NATO.

LISBON—His short stop of less than 24 hours in the Portuguese capital probably won't be too pleasant. Portugal is angry with the United States and maintains that it was abandoned by its NATO allies when India invaded Goa, the Portuguese territory on the Asian peninsula.

Minority Rule

standing could be further changed by recounts that are expected in a number of close races and the absentee military vote, which won't be in until the weekend.

Telling Inroads

The Liberals, who held only 51 seats in the last Parliament, made telling inroads into the huge blocs the Conservatives had in populous Quebec and Ontario provinces.

The biggest surprise in the Conservative setback was the strength of the minor New Democratic and Social Credit parties. The Social Credit party didn't have a single seat in the last Parliament. The New Democratic party previously had eight seats.

The swing away from the Conservatives was even more marked in the popular vote. Out of almost 7 million votes counted early today, the Liberals received 38 per cent and the Conservatives 37 per cent.

The prime minister won re-election easily to the House from Prince Albert, which he has represented since 1953. Four members of his Cabinet fell—Mines Minister Jacques Flynn, Postmaster General William Hamilton, Secretary of State Noel Dorion and Works Minister David J. Walker.

State Sends Probers

The state sent its own investigators here. They found what they termed an atmosphere of "hostility." Mitchell called them "Gestapo agents."

Newburgh's Negro population has risen 150 per cent in the last 10 years from about 2,000 to about 5,000. With 16 per cent of the population, the Negroes represent more than one-third of the welfare cases.

Mitchell's critics admit that there is a high incidence of Negro reliefers. They add that in a short labor market, unskilled Negro labor is usually the hardest hit.

Of the 13 points, which the court called illegal "as a matter of law," only one point was left standing. Physically-able recipients are required to report to the department once a month to pick up their checks.

The most controversial of the other points were: unwed mothers who subsequently bore illegitimate children were to receive no aid; any person who voluntarily left a job would receive no aid; any able-bodied person on relief who turned down any offer of employment was to lose payments; and all aid, except to the blind, disabled and aged, was to be limited to three months in one year and to the same amount as the salary earned by the lowest paid city employe with the same sized family.

The dispute quieted in Newburgh because both sides believe any further action should come on the state or federal level.

In 1932 the repair works were the scene of Communist-led strikes against the royal government in which a large number of workers were killed.

The strikes were led by Romania's present Communist party chief, Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej. He was jailed at that time and was held for nine years.

Khrushchev went to the plant early today after staying up late.

He attended a dinner at which he declared: "Between our two Socialist states there exists now as before unity and agreement in all questions."

Talks Resume In Bid to Avert Airlines Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg got negotiators together again today in a final effort to avert an afternoon flight engineers' strike on Trans World Airlines.

Joseph Suskiewich, New York, a member of the engineers negotiating team, said "The strike is on unless we call it off."

Representatives of the airline and two unions—the Flight Engineers and the Pilots Association—stayed at the conference table Monday night until after midnight. Then Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg ordered a recess so they could "do some more work separately."

No Progress

Goldberg declined to say how the talks were going but a spokesman for the flight engineers said, "We made no progress — none whatsoever."

The main issue in the dispute, which has simmered and boiled since the airlines first began using jets, is whether a pilot or an engineer should fill the third seat in the cockpit.

The flight engineers set 2 p.m. EDT today to start their walkout if mediation efforts fail.

President Kennedy has warned the flight engineers not to strike but he has exhausted remedies availabl to him under the Railway Labor Act which governs disputes involving airlines personnel.

As the government worked to stave off a TWA walkout, a strike threat was made against another airline—American.

TWU Plans Strike

The Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, announced in New York it plans a strike of 10,000 ground employes against American at midnight Friday.

The TWU, whose members work in maintenance, communications and storekeeping jobs, has been negotiating with American for several months for a new contract.

Kennedy is expected to block this strike—at least temporarily—by invoking provisions of the Railway Labor Act. Under the act, the strike can be delayed a minimum of 60 days while a presidential fact-finding board studies the dispute and recommends settlement terms.

These procedures have been used up in the TWA-engineers disagreement.

While pressing their walkout threat against TWA, the flight engineers have dropped their threat temporarily against Pan American World Airways and Eastern Air Lines.

The union said this was done in deference to Kennedy's warning that a strike against all three airlines would harm the nation's economy and welfare.

Storm Prober Fired at Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane-hunting Tiros V rocketed into orbit today to seek the cause of the killer storms and perhaps help devise means of taming them.

A three-stage Thor-Delta rocket blasted off at 7:18 a.m. carrying the fifth in the series of weather-eye satellites.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced more than two hours later that the satellite was in orbit and had transmitted its first series of cloud cover pictures.

A pair of television cameras in the Tiros V made pictures as the satellite completed its first orbit and relayed them instantly to a tracking station at Wallops Island, Va.

Weather experts hope the pictures will provide valuable information on the origin, development and movement of tropical storms born in the 1962 season, which opened last week.

Bowling Business Growth Seems Rather Limited

Q) "Nineteen months ago I bought 50 shares of Brunswick for growth but have lost money. Although this company seems to know steady improvement in earnings, the stock sells lower. Should I hold or switch to something else?" D.M.

A) Brunswick topped out long before the general market for the very simple reason that the bowling equipment business seems to have topped out.

Bowling as a sport will continue to be highly popular, but this country—as it so often does—rushed headlong into the building of bowling alleys to the point where further domestic growth seems rather limited.

The sport is being pushed overseas, where there is a big potential, and Brunswick is in other lines that can be built up. Management is capable and the shares sell at only ten times projected earnings for 1962.

I would hold Brunswick at recent levels, which place a relatively low price tag on future growth.

Q) "We would like to start a college fund for our 6-year-old son but never have invested before. Do I just walk into any brokerage house and ask them to buy $1,000 worth of Long Island Lighting, Miles Laboratories, and Interstate Department Stores?" E.G.

A) It isn't quite as simple as that, but very nearly so.

Since the stocks you have decided to buy are all listed on the New York Stock Exchange, I would look up the names of member firms of that Exchange and do my business with one of them, in this instance.

Opening an account with a member of any stock exchange or good unlisted firm is a relatively simple procedure. You will be asked a few questions about your credit status—perhaps the same questions a good department store would ask if you were opening a charge account.

Since you're dealing with a broker on a full faith and credit basis, he needs to know that you will respect your obligations—as he will his.

Compromise Rule Out on Revision Of Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has rejected a proposed compromise on its embattled tax revision bill, senators said today. The decision left the measure's future highly uncertain.

About the only certainty was that the bill faced still further delay because the Finance Committee is going to put it aside again Wednesday.

The measure has been passed by the House but has been held up in the Senate since April.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the Finance Committee, told a newsman the administration was advised it could have the less controversial parts of the bill.

Such a plan would have meant dropping what the administration considers the three key elements of the revision measure:

A withholding plan on dividends and interest.

—Increased taxes on foreign subsidiaries of U.S. companies.

However, Williams said, the proposed compromise would retain numerous loophole-closing provisions, including those affecting savings and loan associations and mutual banks, expense accounts, cooperatives, mutual fire and casualty companies, and foreign tax havens.

The plan was, said Williams, to hitch these and other noncontroversial provisions of the tax bill to a measure extending corporation income taxes and major excise taxes. This bill is to be passed shortly.

But the administration's decision, the Delaware senator reported, was to continue its battle for the entire tax revision bill.

Rocky Notes Burden In Rail Tax Relief

COLLECTORS' ITEMS—Three special 5-yen stamps of the Olympics series go on one-month sale in Tokyo, with 5-yen surcharge for the 1964 Tokyo Olympic Fund. From top: Judo, dark red; Water polo, dark green; and Beam, printed dark brownish purple.

GAINESVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Railroads operating in New York State have been given property-tax relief totaling $25 million Gov. Rockefeller reports.

Rockefeller said Monday night he was aware the relief constituted "a tremendous burden" on local communities and school districts, which must absorb half the total tax loss.

Costly Alternative

But, he said, the alternative could be an end to rail service, the loss of all tax revenues from railroads and elimination of thousands of jobs.

Under the tax-relief plan, the state pays to localities half of the total tax loss. The other half must be raised locally through property taxes.

Rockefeller commented on the railroad plan, which has been criticized in some parts of the state, in a speech to more than 80 persons at a meeting of the Wyoming County Republican Women's Club.

The governor did not indicate whether the $25 million figure cited was the total relief since the program was inaugurated at his recommendation three years ago, or whether that was now an annual total.

The amount of relief communities give railroads on their property taxes is determined by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment through a formula set by the legislature.

A railroad's earnings and value of property are basic elements in the formula.

Final of Tour

The speech was the finale of a day-long Upstate tour by the governor.

He told a luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce at Saratoga Springs that he agreed with one director's view that some money had been wasted in public school construction.

The governor blamed what he termed "buck-passing" between local school officials and the State Education Department.

He said local officials sometimes defended challenged expenditures by saying they were mandated by the state. The Education Department has replied in such cases, the governor said, that it made suggestions and gave no orders.

Rockefeller gave no specific examples of any such cases. He suggested that sound business practices be employed in school building.

The governor flew from Saratoga Springs to Rochester. He then drove 50 miles to Letchworth State Park for a meeting with Wyoming County Republican officials.

He then went to a central school here for the meeting of the women's group.

Calls RR Backbone

The tax-relief program for railroads has been debated in various Western New York counties recently. Some localities complained of the amount of relief they must extend.

The governor told the audience, including many dairy farmers, the railroad was the backbone of the agricultural community.

With the dairymen in his audience apparently in mind, Rockefeller renewed his stand against various federal proposals he said could lead to large shipments of milk to New York State from other dairy areas, thereby threatening the livelihood of New York dairy farmers.

He again urged milk producers to take a more aggressive attitude toward promoting their products and to address themselves specifically to complaints that milk was high in cholesterol, a fatty body substance that some scientists view as a potential source of heart disease. Rockefeller suggested that farmers tell "exactly what is in milk," which he described as a healthful, nutritious food.

Canadian Trucks Seized as Illegal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The U. S. Customs Service has seized 60 Canadian trucks and tractor-trailers valued at $420,000 for what it says was illegal deliveries in this country.

The service, which revealed the seizures Monday, said the first were made last Friday.

The move by the federal agency virtually put Canadian trucking out of operation. Canada currently is in the throes of a nationwide truck strike.

John Nolan, agent-in-charge of the Buffalo office, said 10 Canadian trucking companies had been picking up cargoes in various cities in the United States and unloading them at Buffalo railroad terminals for shipment to Canadian points.

Federal regulations permit Canadian truckers to load cargoes in this country only if they are to be carried to an unloaded in Canadian cities. The Canadian truck strike has halted shipments there.

Nolan said appraisals were being made to determine penalties against the companies. No cargoes were seized and none of the drivers were held. He said trucks and tractor trailers would remain in seizure until the fines were paid.

Extinguish Car Fire

Saugerties Fire Department units responded at 8:40 p. m. to extinguish a car fire on Finger Street Extension. Assistant Chief Earl Martin said the owner of the late model station wagon is William S. Miller of Finger Street. The fire started in the motor of the car, fire officials reported. Roland Berzal, a resident of Finger Street Extension aided in quelling the blaze with a fire extinguisher.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An official of the American Newspaper Publishers Association foresees classified advertising, now an $800 million-a-year business, as a $1 billion annual business, "in just a few years."

Charles P. Lipscomb Jr., president of the Bureau of Advertising of the ANPA, said Monday classified advertising had increased 240 per cent in the last 20 years and was the fastest growing of all newspaper advertising.

Lipscomb spoke at the 42nd annual convention of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising anagers.

Tupper Is Victor In Maine Vote

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—A self-tagged moderate liberal congressman has won Republican renomination in Maine over a staunch conservative.

Rep. Stanley R. Tupper whipped Rep. Peter A. Garland in the 1st District which is being expanded to take in part of Tupper's present 2nd District in a reapportionment by which the state loses one of three House seats in January.

Tupper's margin was roughly 5 to 3 in Monday's biennial primaries.

He will compete in November against former State Rep. Thomas L. Maynard who beat school principal Clyde Bartlett 7 to 5 for the Democratic nomination.

In the only other major contest Maynard C. Dolloff won the Democratic nomination for governor with a razor-edge decision over National Committeeman Richard J. Dubord.

Dubord wouldn't concede, on the basis of unofficial returns, saying he wants to see the official tabulation—available in about two weeks—before making any statement.

Dolloff, former state grange master, will contest re-election of Republican Gov. John H. Reed, who was unopposed.

In 610 of the state's 631 precincts, Doloff polled 18,159 votes to Dubord's 17,876. The missing precincts are small, rural and likely to favor Dolloff.

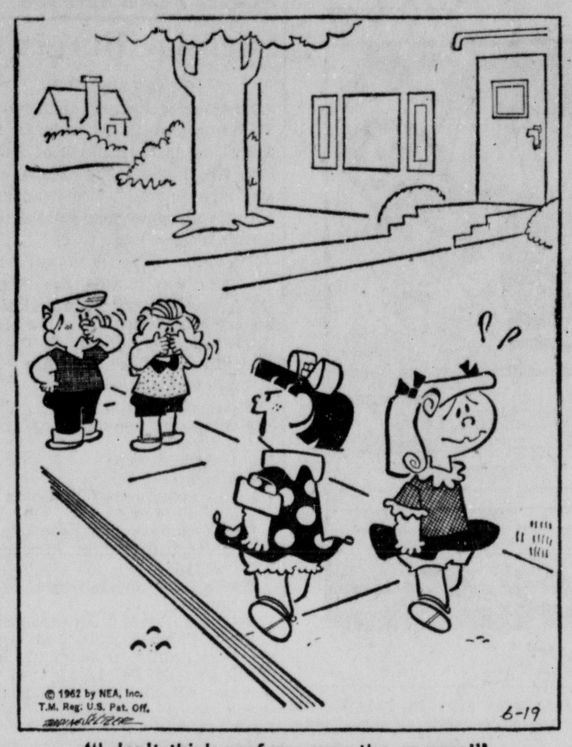

The virtually complete 1st District vote gave Tupper 25,242, Garland 15,666, Maynard 7,813, and Bartlett 5,733.

The 2nd District candidates, Rep. Clifford G. McIntire, Republican, and William D. Hathaway, Democrat, had no opposition in the primaries. McIntire has represented the present 3rd District five terms.

Suicide Remains Marshall Verdict

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—A suicide verdict still stands in the mystery shooting of Agriculture Department official Henry H. Marshall last year.

After a month-long probe in the reopened case, the Robertson County grand jury decided Monday night that evidence was "inconclusive to substantiate a different decision at this time."

The jury began the investigation after West Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes was indicted on fraud and theft charges. Marshall, 52, had been checking into cotton allotment dealings of Estes.

Dist. Judge John M. Barron, who joined Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ in convening the jurors, dismissed the group with praise for its work, remarking that the case "has resolved itself into a police action."

"If any evidence warranting an indictment comes up, the grand jury can come right back," Barron said.

Marshall was found dead June 3, 1961, at a lonely spot on his ranch near here. He had been shot five times with a bolt action .22 caliber rifle which lay nearby. The inquest verdict by a justice of the peace was suicide.

Marshall was state chief of production adjustments for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. He was one of the first officials to look into Estes' manipulations of cotton acreage allotments.

The Agriculture Department has since fined Estes $554.172, holding he obtained cotton allotments illegally.

Cites $25 Million Figure

Rocky Notes Burden In Rail Tax Relief

COLLECTORS' ITEMS—Three special 5-yen stamps of the Olympics series go on one-month sale in Tokyo, with 5-yen surcharge for the 1964 Tokyo Olympic Fund. From top: Judo, dark red; Water polo, dark green; and Beam, printed dark brownish purple.

GAINESVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Railroads operating in New York State have been given property-tax relief totaling $25 million Gov. Rockefeller reports.

Rockefeller said Monday night he was aware the relief constituted "a tremendous burden" on local communities and school districts, which must absorb half the total tax loss.

Costly Alternative

But, he said, the alternative could be an end to rail service, the loss of all tax revenues from railroads and elimination of thousands of jobs.

Under the tax-relief plan, the state pays to localities half of the total tax loss. The other half must be raised locally through property taxes.

Rockefeller commented on the railroad plan, which has been criticized in some parts of the state, in a speech to more than 80 persons at a meeting of the Wyoming County Republican Women's Club.

The governor did not indicate whether the $25 million figure cited was the total relief since the program was inaugurated at his recommendation three years ago, or whether that was now an annual total.

The amount of relief communities give railroads on their property taxes is determined by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment through a formula set by the legislature.

A railroad's earnings and value of property are basic elements in the formula.

Final of Tour

The speech was the finale of a day-long Upstate tour by the governor.

He told a luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce at Saratoga Springs that he agreed with one director's view that some money had been wasted in public school construction.

The governor blamed what he termed "buck-passing" between local school officials and the State Education Department.

He said local officials sometimes defended challenged expenditures by saying they were mandated by the state. The Education Department has replied in such cases, the governor said, that it made suggestions and gave no orders.

Rockefeller gave no specific examples of any such cases. He suggested that sound business practices be employed in school building.

The governor flew from Saratoga Springs to Rochester. He then drove 50 miles to Letchworth State Park for a meeting with Wyoming County Republican officials.

He then went to a central school here for the meeting of the women's group.

Kovacs' Widow Almost in Clear

Edie Puts Family Affairs In Shape by Real Effort

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "In another two months everything will be in the clear," said Edie Adams of the tangled affairs left ner on the death of her comedian husband Ernie Kovacs.

Help Offered

When Kovacs died in a car crash Jan. 13, the family finances were found to be jumbled, with debts owed to Uncle Sam and others. A host of stars, from Jack Lemmon to Frank Sinatra, started to organize a television series or special to raise funds.

Edie thanked them for their good wishes but said she would handle the problem herself.

"It has taken a lot of effort," she remarked, "but I think everything is getting squared away. The taxes will be settled in two months and I have made arrangements to buy back the house.

"It's a big house, But I like it. Most of all, the children like it. Losing Ernie has been tough enough without having to change their home. At their age, familiarity counts a great deal, and that's what I want to keep for them."

The comedienne managed to put the family affairs in order by hard work. When I saw her, she was working her hardest—doing a wild, wild scene with Sid Caesar in "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." Their clothes tattered and spattered with paint, they were locked in a hardware store while fireworks—real ones—exploded all around them.

Learning a Lot

"It's crazy, but I love it," she said as she staggered out of the scene. "It's good for me to be busy. Besides this picture, I'm in the process of preparing eight television specials for next season. I just signed with Decca for a record album. I'll be playing Las Vegas in October. And I plan to start work on preparing a show for me on Broadway.

"Oh, I've learned a lot in these past few months. Before, I couldn't even make my check stubs balance for expenses like the children's piano lessons. I didn't even try to understand anything about finances.

"I have an entirely different attitude toward my career, too. Before, I didn't really care. If work came along—fine. But I never went after it. Now I have a reason to work at my career. It's good for me."

Hamburger, of course is as American as the Fourth of July. But we know some teenagers who have invented "Firecracker" burgers as something special for Independence Day.

They are cylindrically-shaped. The less you handle the meat, the better. Cook first in a skillet for crisp outer crust. Then a barbeque sauce is added.

"Firecracker" Burgers
(Yield: 8 servings)

- 2 pounds ground beef
- 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup unsulphured molasses
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 1 can (8-ounces) tomato sauce
- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
- 2 teaspoons celery seed (optional)

Sprinkle beef with monosodium glutamate, salt and pepper; toss lightly to distribute ingredients. Divide meat into 8 portions. Form into cylindrical shape to fit frankfurter rolls. Brown quickly on all sides in skillet. Blend together prepared mustard and molasses. Stir in remaining ingredients. Add to skillet. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 5 to 10 minutes. If desired, serve with scallions.

Canned Vegetable Vinaigrette
(Yield: 8 servings)

- 1 can (20-ounces) chick peas
- 1 can (6-ounces) whole mushrooms
- 1 can (1-pound) artichoke hearts
- ⅔ cup French dressing
- 2 tablespoons very finely chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped chives
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh dill
- ½ teaspoon salt

Drain vegetables. Reserve liquids to use in sauces, gravies, and soups. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour over vegetables in cans; let stand several hours or overnight. To serve, arrange vegetables on mixed greens in salad bowl. Pour marinade over vegetables and greens.

Virginia Dare, first English baby born in the American colonies, was born in Virginia on Sept. 6, 1587.

Request to Use Sound Trucks Is Denied by Board

A request by Dorrance Baker to use a sound equipment truck through the village streets for the next three days to promote the school bond issue vote on Thursday was denied by the Saugerties Village Board of Trustees at its Monday night meeting. The vote was four to three against the request, with Mayor George P. Holmes' vote deciding the question.

It was brought out that there is no ordinance against the use of such equipment, and permission usually is granted, but it was the opinion of the majority that the school issue has been well covered in radio and press releases and this medium would only serve to create undue aggravation with residents who are opposed to the resubmission of the bond vote after its defeat on May 9.

Baker received approval from the town clerk on Monday afternoon for use of the truck outside of the village. There is no ordinance against such use in the township, either, and the request was made to the clerk purely as a clearance for its use.

The original request was cut to a two hour minimum Thursday before a motion was made by Trustee Howard Lezette to grant permission for its use. Cornelius Cox seconded the motion after which the vote was taken, with Robert Moser voting with Lezette and Cox for it and Sheldon Longendyke, Elton Johnson and Frank Short and the mayor, against.

In other business, Francis Dunn was accepted as a new member in the R. A. Snyder Hose Co.; Walter Lane Sr. in the Washington Hook and Ladder Co.; Robert Miganno and Paul Hines in the C. A. Lynch Co.

The Ulster County Board of Health has approved the Upper Esopus Creek for swimming and the Saugerties Bathing Beach at the lower end of Partition Street will officially open Monday, June 25.

Mrs. Chester Glunt, representing the village planning board requested the village clean up the Municipal Parking lot by cutting the weeds and making it more attractive for summer visitors when shopping in the village. The board agreed to start work immediately on the project.

At the meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Kaiser, the group expressed its concern "at the continuation of and probable expansion of split session, and new school facilities should be constructed as rapidly as possible."

Classes Tour Shelter

The intermediate group of the ungraded classes in the Saugerties Central Schools visited the Fallout Shelter in the parking lot in Partition Street last Monday.

This project is sponsored by the Jaycees and Civil Defense members. It is designed to provide strong blast proof shelter, and a chance of survival, in the area of devastation, after a nuclear detonation.

The children prepared for the trip by reading pamphlets about nuclear weapons and radio-active fallout. They also studied the shelter checklist of food and cooking equipment; supplies and equipment for sanitation and other shelter equipment, required.

On their return to school the children learned about the warning signals on the radio and the school regulations in the event an air-raid.

Taking part in the trip with the teacher, Mrs. Anderson, were Albert Scott, Wayne Snyder, John Walsh, Carol, Betty Ann and Charles Personeus, Leo Boice, Jack Hoy, George Brough, Caroline Storms, Eileen Clement, Debralee Oakley, Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh, and Mark Carney.

ADAPTABLE AUDITORIUM—Burgeoning student enrollments have caused school architects to come up with ingenious ideas to get the most out of the available space. One new design puts the usually idle school auditorium to use. Cutaway drawing above shows a new divisible auditorium at Boulder City (Nevada) High School. Movable walls have divided the building into three independent teaching areas. The walls are actually king-sized folding doors, motorized and soundproof. The design was supported by a grant from the Education Facilities Laboratories. The movable walls added less than 10 per cent to the hall's $367,508 cost, much less than would be needed for new classrooms.

Psychological Scare Discounted In Safety Drive

HARRISBURG (AP)—The psychological scare has outlived its usefulness as a highway safety education device, Gov. Lawrence told the third annual Traffic Safety Conference today.

Keynoting the one-day seminar which he instituted, Lawrence added in prepared remarks:

"The best approach to traffic safety is the constructive, creative approach we are using in Pennsylvania today.

"To dramatize that approach, I should far rather see you utilize the beneficial aspects of safety instead of simply raising the spectre of potential death and destruction if safe driving methods are not employed."

An example of the positive approach, Lawrence said, would be to underscore the fact "that improved safety techniques and better drivers saved at least 123 lives on our highways last year."

The saving, he said, represents the difference between last year's record low 1,486 traffic deaths and the number killed the previous year on the highways.

Noting that the theme of the conference is "Pennsylvania—The Safe Driver State," Lawrence declared that the greatest single weapon in the continuing battle to reduce sudden death on the highway is the "courteous, common sense driver."

Sir Walter Raleigh established a colony on Roanoke Island, Va., on July 4, 1587.

Zahtila-Smith Floyd W. Flints Bridge Winners

Joseph Zahtila of Hyde Park and Robert Smith of Poughkeepsei had a 60½ per cent game for first place on the North-South side of the Glenerie Bridge Club's monthly Point bridge tournament.

The Kingston husband and wife combination of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Flint posted a fine 61 per cent to lead the East-West group. Twenty four boards were in play in a Mitchell movement.

Runnersup on the North-South side were: Miss Marie Degenhardt, Poughkeepsie, and Milton Daskel, Kerhonkson, 55½ per cent; Mrs. John Olivet and Miss Dorothy Maroon, Kingston, 55 per cent.

Roy Wulff and I. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, placed second with 59 per cent on the East West. Dr. John Olivet and Dr. Irving Adner, Kingston, had 51 per cent.

A Fractional point game is scheduled to night at 8 o'clock at the Stuyvesant Kingston hotel.

A MESSAGE FROM

PARENTS WHO CARE

We, the undersigned, qualified voters of the Saugerties Central School District, submit the following statements for the consideration of all voters in the district:

We have as our sole motive the adequate education of all children in the district.

We believe the proposition being re-submitted to the voters on JUNE 21, 1962 to be a reasonable and proper solution to the IMMEDIATE problem of classroom shortage, fully realizing that it is not the final solution.

Recognizing that there are currently 400 children on split session schooling and realizing that further delay will cause this number to swell to 1,000, we submit that action must be taken NOW.

We urge all voters to come out and use their vote on JUNE 21, 1962 feeling certain that, if they do, the proposition will be adopted.

Because we believe that people who make public statements on public issues have a moral obligation to identify themselves, we have affixed our names below and have contributed toward the cost of this advertisement.

Judges Named For July 4th Parade Floats

The judges for the annual Jaycee 4th of July Parade have been selected. They are George Baron of Kingston, Harold Boyer of Palenville and Dr. Gerald P. Gorman of Kingston.

Mr. Baron is a patent attorney presently employed by IBM. He attended City College of New York and followed this with post graduate training at the United States Naval Academy. Upon his discharge from the Navy Mr. Baron attended Georgetown Law School and received his law degree. He has worked for several years as the concert business manager for the Ulster County Council of the Mid-Hudson Philharmonic.

Harold Boyer, formerly of Emmaus, Pa., is a commercial artist. He attended the Career Art School of New York City for three years and then spent four years with the U.S. Navy. This duty included a world tour during which time he served as ship's artist. Mr. Boyer is employed by IBM as a designer in the graphic design and display group. He is a member of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen and the program director of the Little Sawyer Arts and Crafts Guild.

Dr. Gorman received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Manhatan College in New York and his MD from Georgetown Medical School. Dr. Gorman is also a Navy veteran, having spent a portion of his service in the Pacific. After an internship at St. Vincent's Hospital in New York City, he went on to a residency in general surgery at Bellevue Hospital, and still later another residency in chest surgery. Dr. Gorman is a Dipolomate of the American College of Surgeons. He is an extremely active member of the Kingston Branch of the American Cancer Society and is now spending much of his free time addressing high school groups on the after-effects of smoking.

They will be judging the junior and senior marching units and the floats that have been entered depicting Acts of Freedom.

To date, the following organizations have entered competitive floats: Saugerties DAR; Woodstock Motor Club; Okiodako Campfire Girls; Saugerties VFW and auxiliary; Boy Scout Troop 32; Cub Pack 32; Girl Scout Troop 104; Girl Scout Troop 99; Brownie Troop 37.

In addition, the Saugerties Rotary Club and the Saugerties Jaycees will enter floats in the parade. There will also be several new additions this year such as the famed locomotive from the 40 & 8 in Port Ewen, a novel antique bicycle and a children's attraction to be presented by the Saugerties Lions Club. There will also be many fire trucks, marching units of our local fire companies, children's organizations and youth organizations, and decorated cars. A marching unit of U. S. Airmen will also be featured. The entire parade will march to the music of eight excellent drum corps.

Classes Tour Shelter

The intermediate group of the ungraded classes in the Saugerties Central Schools visited the Fallout Shelter in the parking lot in Partition Street last Monday.

This project is sponsored by the Jaycees and Civil Defense members. It is designed to provide strong blast proof shelter, and a chance of survival, in the area of devastation, after a nuclear detonation.

The children prepared for the trip by reading pamphlets about nuclear weapons and radio-active fallout. They also studied the shelter checklist of food and cooking equipment; supplies and equipment for sanitation and other shelter equipment, required.

On their return to school the children learned about the warning signals on the radio and the school regulations in the event an air-raid.

Relief in Sight

As the oval toe style appears in shoes, many women will give a sigh of relief. All those years of jamming toes into narrow cramped shoe styles are ended.

ADAPTABLE AUDITORIUM—Burgeoning student enrollments have caused school architects to come up with ingenious ideas to get the most out of the available space. One new design puts the usually idle school auditorium to use. Cutaway drawing above shows a new divisible auditorium at Boulder City (Nevada) High School. Movable walls have divided the building into three independent teaching areas. The walls are actually king-sized folding doors, motorized and soundproof. The design was supported by a grant from the Education Facilities Laboratories. The movable walls added less than 10 per cent to the hall's $367,508 cost, much less than would be needed for new classrooms.

Psychological Scare Discounted In Safety Drive

HARRISBURG (AP)—The psychological scare has outlived its usefulness as a highway safety education device, Gov. Lawrence told the third annual Traffic Safety Conference today.

Keynoting the one-day seminar which he instituted, Lawrence added in prepared remarks:

"The best approach to traffic safety is the constructive, creative approach we are using in Pennsylvania today.

"To dramatize that approach, I should far rather see you utilize the beneficial aspects of safety instead of simply raising the spectre of potential death and destruction if safe driving methods are not employed."

An example of the positive approach, Lawrence said, would be to underscore the fact "that improved safety techniques and better drivers saved at least 123 lives on our highways last year."

The saving, he said, represents the difference between last year's record low 1,486 traffic deaths and the number killed the previous year on the highways.

Noting that the theme of the conference is "Pennsylvania—The Safe Driver State," Lawrence declared that the greatest single weapon in the continuing battle to reduce sudden death on the highway is the "courteous, common sense driver."

Sir Walter Raleigh established a colony on Roanoke Island, Va., on July 4, 1587.

Zahtila-Smith Floyd W. Flints Bridge Winners

Joseph Zahtila of Hyde Park and Robert Smith of Poughkeepsei had a 60½ per cent game for first place on the North-South side of the Glenerie Bridge Club's monthly Point bridge tournament.

The Kingston husband and wife combination of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Flint posted a fine 61 per cent to lead the East-West group. Twenty four boards were in play in a Mitchell movement.

Runnersup on the North-South side were: Miss Marie Degenhardt, Poughkeepsie, and Milton Daskel, Kerhonkson, 55½ per cent; Mrs. John Olivet and Miss Dorothy Maroon, Kingston, 55 per cent.

Roy Wulff and I. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, placed second with 59 per cent on the East West. Dr. John Olivet and Dr. Irving Adner, Kingston, had 51 per cent.

A Fractional point game is scheduled to night at 8 o'clock at the Stuyvesant Kingston hotel.

A MESSAGE FROM

PARENTS WHO CARE

We, the undersigned, qualified voters of the Saugerties Central School District, submit the following statements for the consideration of all voters in the district:

We have as our sole motive the adequate education of all children in the district.

We believe the proposition being re-submitted to the voters on JUNE 21, 1962 to be a reasonable and proper solution to the IMMEDIATE problem of classroom shortage, fully realizing that it is not the final solution.

Recognizing that there are currently 400 children on split session schooling and realizing that further delay will cause this number to swell to 1,000, we submit that action must be taken NOW.

We urge all voters to come out and use their vote on JUNE 21, 1962 feeling certain that, if they do, the proposition will be adopted.

Because we believe that people who make public statements on public issues have a moral obligation to identify themselves, we have affixed our names below and have contributed toward the cost of this advertisement.

Hercules Subsidiary Opens in Finland

A new plant to manufacture chemicals for the rapidly expanding paper industry of Finland was dedicated today at Tampere, a large industrial city in South Central Finland. The plant is owned by Oy Hercofinn Ab, a subsidiary of Hercules Powder Company of Wilmington, Del.

The dedicatory address was delivered by Dr. Klaus Waris, Governor of the Bank of Finland. The managing director of the Finnish company, D. C. Kane, welcomed the guests, many of whom were prominent officials of the Finnish government and leaders of the paper industry.

The Finnish subsidiary was organized last year with headquarters at the capital city of Helsinki. The new plant at Tampere manufactures "Pexol" rosin size, resin emulsions, and defoaming agents used in the production of paper.

Finland is expanding its pulp, paper, and paperboard industry to meet constantly growing world demand for these products. The country has the largest supply of wood in Europe for pulp and paper production, and the Finnish people have for many years practiced scientific forestry management to improve the utilization of this important natural resource.

East's Echo Confuses South

By OSWALD JACOBY

The game was duplicate and every South player landed at the normal four spade contract. Every West player opened the king of clubs and at all tables, but one, shifted to a trump after receiving the deuce from his partner.

Now declarer would draw trumps, lead a second club and eventually make two club tricks to wind up with five odd.

At one table East decided to play the eight of clubs rather than the deuce. He saw no way to beat the hand, but had hopes of getting some value out of his jack if the suit were continued.

Encouraged by the obvious come-on, West continued with the ace of clubs and East completed the echo with the deuce.

Now came the third club lead. What would you do if you were declarer?

Remember that as declarer you can't see that jack of clubs in the East hand.

You need a heart discard on your queen of clubs and if you play the queen and East ruffs you won't get it, but if you play the ten of clubs East can ruff, but that ruff will end proceedings for the defense.

With this in mind, South played the ten of clubs. East made his jack and while South still made his contract, the result was a bottom score for him.

Balancing National Budget Frustrates Many Presidents

EDITOR'S NOTE—Are U.S. fiscal policies out of step with the times? In this, the first of four self-contained articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the impact of government spending in and out of the budget, on business and jobs.

NEW YORK (AP)—Balancing a budget is a neat trick if you can do it — as many a family man knows.

And now the balancing trick is complicated still more by a big debate just starting.

Is balancing the federal budget really the virtue it's cracked up to be? Should we abandon the type of budget we've used for decades in favor of one of several other devices in vogue in Washington?

He Calls Them Myths

Or maybe, should we adopt the kind of deficit-ignoring bookkeeping they've used in Europe with seemingly marked success since the war?

The debate should be bitter. It will challenge some strongly held beliefs. President Kennedy has termed some of these conceptions myths.

You probably will choose sides, depending on whether you believe a Treasury deficit is a sin to be paid for in rising prices later on, or that in the present state of world and domestic affairs a deficit can be an economic tool to encourage growth and make more jobs and greater prosperity.

You may find yourself on the side of those who think taxes should be cut and government spending, too. But you may line up with those who see a continually rising federal debt as a small problem in an economy that is growing still faster.

Set Up in 1921

The federal budget which a president is required to submit in January, and which the Congress spends the following six months changing or adopting, is called the administrative budget. It dates back only to 1921. In that year Congress set up the Budget Bureau and ordained the formal, or administrative budget. The object was to keep a tighter fiscal control over the ordinary programs of government.

But since then a lot of other programs have been set up, and they aren't included in the administrative budget.

About one-fifth of Uncle Sam's fiscal activity isn't recorded in the administrative budget at all. And yet this fifth plays a big part in shaping the national economy.

An Example

Take Social Security — not included in the administrative budget — as an example. If you are under 65 and working, what is withheld from your paycheck is money you can't spend—and that means some deprivation to you, but a lot more in the total of all deductions, in lost sales for the merchants and purveyors of various services.

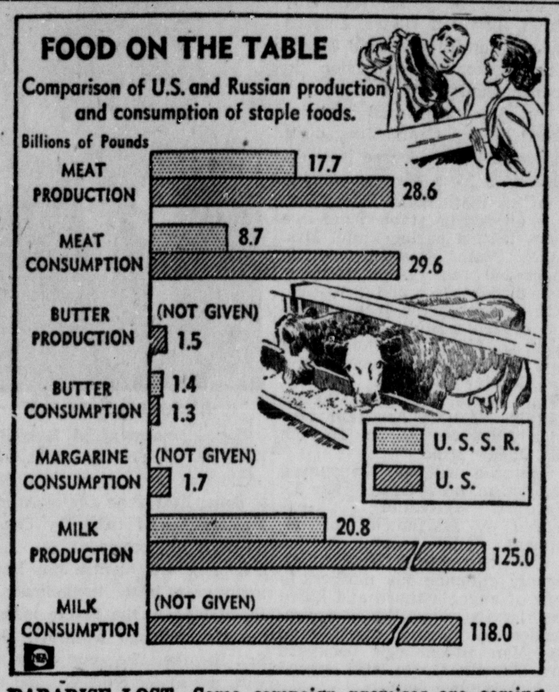

If you are over 65 and drawing Social Security payments, the checks mean quite a bit to you. The total of these checks mean a lot to all the makers of goods and to the service industries where the money comes to rest.

Isn't Shown in Budget

The economy, therefore, is directly affected by whether the sums the government is taking out in the form of withholding exceeds or falls short of the sums it is putting into the economy in the form of benefit payments.

And yet this deficit or surplus isn't shown in the administrative budget which a president submits and Congress passes upon. Other funds exempted from this budget also can, and do, affect the real fiscal deficit or surplus.

PARADISE LOST—Some campaign promises are coming home to roost for Nikita Khrushchev. Back in 1957, he promised the Russian people they would be enjoying as much or more meat, butter and milk than Americans in the next few years. Figures on chart above show it's still a long way from happening. Worse, Soviet citizens have just been hit with a rise in meat and butter prices. A kilogram of butter (2.2 pounds) now costs about one-fifth of a Soviet worker's weekly wages. One-fifth of an American worker's pay would be nearly $20. Soviet consumption figures in chart are sales through the state trading network. Some consumption on farms is not shown. U.S.S.R. produces little margarine, while U.S. consumption exceeds that of butter. The two combined are twice the Soviet consumption of butter, although Russia has 30 to 40 million more people.

Middletown, Port Bank Merger Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comptroller of Currency James J. Saxon announced Monday he had rejected an application to merge the County National Bank of Middletown, N.Y., with the National Bank and Trust Co. of Port Jervis, N.Y.

The proposed new institution would have retained the name and charter of the Middletown bank, Saxon said.

Bell Gets Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency announced Monday it had awarded a $145,451 contract to Bell Aerosystems of Niagara Falls, N.Y., for metal stress studies.

The contract was one of several totaling $1.6 million for research on supersonic transport aircraft.

See Equal Representation Review Important to All

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers and city dwellers alike should keep their eyes on a case the Supreme Court has just decided to review. The outcome is likely to be of enormous political importance.

It may give a tip-off on just how much political power the man-with-the-hoe (or in modern parlance the man driving the tractor combine) must surrender to his city and suburban cousins.

Voting Unbalanced

The Supreme Court has already ruled that courts have jurisdiction to handle complaints of metropolitan residents that state voting systems are "invidiously" unbalanced.

In more than 30 states, there is ferment. City and suburban citizens have started lawsuits, forced special sessions of state legislatures — or threatened to, launched movements for state constitutional amendments or taken other steps. Their aim: to get more representation in state legislatures, in keeping with their vastly increased numbers.

One big trouble is that, so far, there are no sure guidelines on what constitutes invidious, unconstitutional discrimination.

Question Weight

Must state voting systems give each man's vote the same weight as every other man's, or nearly so? Can one house of a state legislature be apportioned on a population basis (like the U.S. House of Representatives) and the other according to geography (like the U.S. Senate)? Nobody knows for certain.

On April 28, a three-judge federal court threw out a century-old county unit system in Georgia, even though it had been slightly modified. This system was used in Democratic primaries for governor and other offices. Under the old system a rural resident's vote could be worth 99 city votes.

The Democratic party of Georgia appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court. The tribunal agreed Monday to hear the case, but not until the term starting next October. This apparently means that, with the county unit system out the window at least temporarily, Georgia will select its governor Sept. 12 on a basis of popular votes.

The three-judge lower court suggested that a unit system would not be invidious if the difference in the weight of individual votes in various counties were no greater than in the U.S. Electoral College.

Always Leeway

This would allow much leeway. The greatest disproportion in the Electoral College is between Alaska, which has three electoral votes, and New York, which has 45. This amounts to one electoral vote for 76,000 citizens of Alaska and one for 375,000 citizens of New York.

Will the Supreme Court go for this standard of reasonableness? The decision next term may tell.

It may take another decision, or several more, to determine guidelines for state legislatures. This situation is really in flux.

Fight in Circuit Court

Now there is a fight in the state circuit court to force realignment of the Senate as well. But Judge O. Bowie Duckett has indicated he will not do it. He pointed to the federal plan whereby each state, no matter what its population, has two seats in the U.S. Senate.

Again under court pressure, Alabama Gov. John Patterson has called his legislature into special session, though not without a blast at what he called federal invasion of states' rights. The legislature is now in its second week but has not acted. Various bills have been offered, to reapportion one or both houses. Members of a small-county bloc threaten a filibuster in favor of a "senator for every county" plan.

In Oklahoma a federal court is on the point of ruling on complaints that heavily populated areas lack sufficient representation in the legislature.

In Wisconsin, the legislature convened at Gov. Gaylor Nelson's call, to reapportion or have a federal court do it instead. Nelson is a Democrat and the Republican-controlled legislature is not happy. One GOP leader said: "Nobody is going to tell the legislature how to run this state."

It was a case from Tennessee that led the U.S. Supreme Court to decide that courts can take a hand in apportionment disputes. The Tennessee Legislature thereupon reapportioned, but left rural blocs in control. A federal court at Nashville is now weighing the question whether to strike this law down.

Radical Threat Repelled: Javits

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., says Republicans have repelled a threat "by the radical right to infiltrate our party."

A few months ago, the senator said Monday night, "the pundits were writing obituaries for the future of the Republican Party. But the mood has changed."

The successful fight against ultra - conservative elements, Javits said, contributed to the change. Another factor is that "there are constructive alternatives to propose which will be far more desirable for our country than (Kennedy) administration proposals in the same field," he said.

"If it is a party, it is entitled to its methods of expression as are all citizens."

The conservatives have said they intend to put up candidates to oppose both Javits and Republican Gov. Rockefeller when they seek re-election in November.

Natural History Field Trips Set At Lake Mohonk

'Music Man' Too Much for Mails

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP)—There were no mail deliveries in downtown Mason City this morning; 119 bands, 84 queens, 76 trombones and tens of thousands of visitors were in the way.

The day's festivities included the 24th annual North Iowa Band Festival, a national high school marching contest, and the world premiere of the movie version of "The Music Man."

Mason City has an extra special stake in the day-long celebration: Meredith Willson, who wrote the musical, was born here in 1902 and this is the "River City" of his hit.

The highway patrol estimated that 40,000 to 50,000 persons turned out Monday night to welcome him and his wife, Rini, and stars of the movie, including Robert Preston and Shirley Jones.

More than 100,000 persons were expected to view today's three-hour grand parade of bands, floats, festival queens and celebrities and the national marching band competition later in the day.

The line of march included about 8,000 young musicians, 3,000 of them members of the 29 out-of-state marching bands competing for more than $10,000 worth of musical instruments and a tour of the United States.

The city staggered under the influx of visitors and the highway patrol brought in extra men to handle the traffic. Postmaster Henry Pendergraft saw the handwriting on the wall and announced there would be no downtown mail deliveries.

Pine Bush Youth Drowning Victim

A 15-year-old Pine Bush youth drowned Monday while swimming at the Community Beach on Pine Bush Lake Estates, Walker Valley.

New York State Police at Ellenville say that Arthur Daniel Scott, reportedly a poor swimmer, was swimming toward a raft in the water when he started to flounder and fight to stay above the water.

Two girls on the raft went to the aid of the drowning boy but could not overcome the youth's desperation struggle and watched him sink out of sight, according to Ellenville Police.

Volunteer firemen from the Walker Valley Fire Department recovered the body after 45 minutes of diving to the bottom of the 12-foot pool. Artificial respiration was applied and sesuscitation attempted with negative results according to police reports.

The deceased is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott.

Driver Is Booked On Two Charges

A driver charged with leaving the scene of a collision at Washington and Hurley Avenues Monday afternoon was also booked on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

A police report at 1:30 p. m. said Robert W. Bradley, 33, of 32 Ponckhockie Street, was apprehended on Route 209 a short distance beyond the city line on Hurley Avenue by Sgt. Julius Glassman, who had been informed of the alleged hit-and-run collision by the driver of the other car.

City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today put hearing over to Thursday. Bradley is under $200 bail.

Sgt. Glassman said he was stopped while on patrol at Washington and Hurley Avenues by Gottfried Baum, 38, of Hurley, and another who had been riding with him, and was told that a car owned by the Society of Brothers, Rifton, and driven by Baum, had been struck and damaged at the intersection, and the offending driver continued out Hurley Avenue without stopping to identify himself.

Baum had stopped at the traffic light, the report said, and the Bradley car, turning into Hurley Avenue struck it in the front.

Officers Frank Stip and Robert Bonesteel were dispatched to assist after Sgt. Glassman pursued the Bradley car.

Man Who Stabbed Mother March 19 Enters Guilty Plea

Ronald William Van Steenburgh, 26, of 1 Lawrenceville Street, Town of Ulster, entered a plea of guilty to second degree assault Monday afternoon in County Court.

Van Steenburgh had been indicted by the Grand Jury on a charge of first degree assault, alleged to have been committed upon his mother last March 19. It is alleged he stabbed her five times with a paring knife. Mrs. Hazel Van Steenburgh, 65, underwent emergency surgery immediately after and recovered.

In accepting the plea of second degree assault, Judge Raymond J. Mino told the jury a long trial had been averted and considerable expense to the county saved. The plea was acceptable to both Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca and Judge Mino.

Sentence will be pronounced at 10 a. m. on Monday, June 25. Matthew Weishaupt Jr., appeared by assignment for defendant.

Van Steenburgh, after allegedly stabbing his mother, in a fit of anger stabbed and killed the family dog. When apprehended by deputy scheriffs in the Van Steenburgh backyard the defendant was still armed with a kitchen knife.

After accepting the guilty plea in the Van Steenburgh case Judge Mino excused jurors from further service. He told them a delay at the morning session had resulted in the plea of guilty, thus saving the county considerable expense, and he said the presence of the jurors ready to sit as a trial jury had been instrumental in having the plea entered.

In discharging the jurors, Judge Mino thanked them for their attendance this month, saying that they as April jurors had voluntarily returned in order that additional cases might be disposed of.

Judge Mino called attention again to the lack of court-room facilities and said the jurors should go home, and if they agree with the idea, point out to their supervisor and other officials the dire need of additional court room facilities. Were there sufficient room for holding two sessions at once the causes of litigants would be more speedily disposed of and defendants waiting in jail for disposition of their cases could have a more speedy trial.

Court recessed until June 25 at 10 a. m. for imposition of sentences in several cases.

'Music Man' Too Much for Mails

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP)—There were no mail deliveries in downtown Mason City this morning; 119 bands, 84 queens, 76 trombones and tens of thousands of visitors were in the way.

The day's festivities included the 24th annual North Iowa Band Festival, a national high school marching contest, and the world premiere of the movie version of "The Music Man."

Mason City has an extra special stake in the day-long celebration: Meredith Willson, who wrote the musical, was born here in 1902 and this is the "River City" of his hit.

The highway patrol estimated that 40,000 to 50,000 persons turned out Monday night to welcome him and his wife, Rini, and stars of the movie, including Robert Preston and Shirley Jones.

More than 100,000 persons were expected to view today's three-hour grand parade of bands, floats, festival queens and celebrities and the national marching band competition later in the day.

The line of march included about 8,000 young musicians, 3,000 of them members of the 29 out-of-state marching bands competing for more than $10,000 worth of musical instruments and a tour of the United States.

The city staggered under the influx of visitors and the highway patrol brought in extra men to handle the traffic. Postmaster Henry Pendergraft saw the handwriting on the wall and announced there would be no downtown mail deliveries.

Pine Bush Youth Drowning Victim

New York State Police at Ellenville say that Arthur Daniel Scott, reportedly a poor swimmer, was swimming toward a raft in the water when he started to flounder and fight to stay above the water.

Two girls on the raft went to the aid of the drowning boy but could not overcome the youth's desperation struggle and watched him sink out of sight, according to Ellenville Police.

Volunteer firemen from the Walker Valley Fire Department recovered the body after 45 minutes of diving to the bottom of the 12-foot pool. Artificial respiration was applied and sesuscitation attempted with negative results according to police reports.

Arthur Chipp, Ulster County coroner, pronounced the cause of death as asphyxiation caused by drowning.

The deceased is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott.

Brush Fire Curb Seen in Statute

Conservation Law has a statute which if applied could diminish and possibly eliminate the rash of brush fires experienced throughout the Hudson Valley early this spring.

George H. Proper Jr., acting director of the Division of Fire Safety, Albany, in a letter to county fire coordinators and fire chiefs outlined portions of the law in Subdivision 5, Section 53 which reads as follows:

Recovery of expenses. Any moneys necessarily expended by the state, a municipality, or any person in fighting forest fires may be sued for by the state, municipality or person expending the same and recovered from the person causing the fire. Such actions may be maintained in addition to other actions for damages or penalties and may be demanded in the same or separate actions.

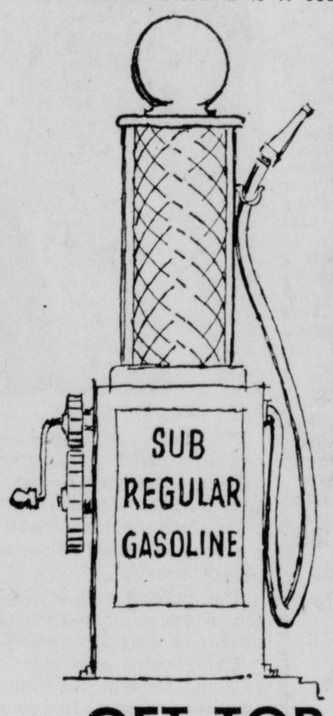

"According to the Conservation Law, in addition to the actual cost of suppression, any person who permits a fire to escape his control is also subject to a penalty of not less than $10, nor more than $100. This penalty may also be invoked in the cases of persons burning without the required permit in areas where permits are required," Proper said.

Solon Hyde, superintendent of Forest Fire Control, State Conservation Department said this law has been most frequently used to gain control of the perennial grass and brush fire problem.

REFUSING AN EXTRA GUEST

Q: My husband and I gave a party last Saturday to celebrate our tenth wedding anniversary. Two days before the party one of the guests (a single man) called and asked if it would be all right if he brought a woman friend to the party. I thought he had a lot of nerve asking to bring a stranger to the party and I politely told him I could not include an extra guest. My husband thought I was very rude to refuse to have him bring this guest. I don't think I was rude at all and was quite within my rights to refuse. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: The man should not have asked to bring a stranger to your anniversary party and you had every right to refuse.

Introducing Waitress

Q: I have dinner several nights a week at a certain restaurant. The same waitress serves me all the time and I have gotten to know her quite well. I call her by first name and she calls me Mr. Jones. When I have guests dining with me, would it be proper to introduce her to them?

A: To introduce her might easily embarrass her, but to ask when she comes to take your orders, "Mary, what's good today?" and then add to your guests, "Mary is the best waitress here and always knows what dishes are especially good," will surely please her.

Who Says Good Morning First?

Q: I would appreciate your answer on a matter of office etiquette. A young woman in our office insists that the male employees greet her with a "good morning" even though she is the last one to arrive at the office. The men claim it is she who should greet the others when she comes in. Who is right?

A: It makes no difference who says "good morning" first, but it is more logical that it be the one entering the office as those already there are probably at work and should not be expected to watch the door to see who is coming in.

Buffalo Philharmonic Has Labor Problems; May Cancel Schedule

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Philharmonic Society may cancel its 1962-63 concert season if its current labor dispute is not settled by Friday.

The tentative cancellation was announced Monday night after rejection of a two-year contract by the AFL-CIO Musicians Local 43.

The union turned down a society offer in a 37-27 vote. The local represents 87 musicians in the Philharmonic Orchestra which was scheduled to launch its season July 6 with an eight-weeks pops concert program.

The orchestra also is scheduled for 12 weeks during the winter and an additional five weeks in nearby Lockport and Niagara Falls.

Society President David J. Laub said he would advise guest performers of the cancellation if it became effective Friday.

Salvatore Rizzo, the union president, said the main issue in the dispute revolved around a 29-week schedule offered by the society and a 28-week schedule sought by the union. He said the union also sought a $7.50 per week increase in salary. The society offer included a $5.00-a-week boost.

The current weekly salary scale was not revealed.

Asking Support For Jury Duty Amendment Bill

Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors John L. Smith is urging passage of a bill presently before Congress which would exempt payments for jury duty from being computed in figuring income for purposes of payment of pensions and for other purposes.

Commissioner Smith has written to John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, asking his, and that of all veteran organizations, support for the bill. A communication has also been sent to the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association asking that they too communicate with Congressman J. Ernest Wharton and seek his support for the bill.

The bill, an amendment to Section 503, Title 38, U.S. Code, provides that payments for jury duty shall be disregarded in the computation of income for the purpose of pensions, and for other purposes in all states, commonwealths and possesions of the United States.

In the case of veterans seeking pensions all income must be considered, including that received for jury duty. Passage of the bill introduced by Congressman Carleton J. King, 31st District, New York State, any payments reecived for jury duty would not be reportable income for veterans or in figuring income tax.

Commissioner of Jurors Smith is urging that our local representative in Congress be urged to give his full support to the bill.

We The Women

Prepare Yourself Now For a Happy Old Age

What are you going to need to have a happy old age?

A social worker who has had wide experience in working with the aged has found that they need the same things everybody else needs health, employment, family,—love and recognition.

How are you going to manage to have as many as possible of those requirements for a happy old age?

By starting now—at whatever age you are—you can surley manage to have some of them.

You're more likely to have health in old age if you look after your health while you are still young.

You can start now developing the interests that will keep your days occupied once you have had to retire from your job. In other words, you can plan for "self-employment" — whether what you plan to do will bring in any income or not.

You can certainly work at getting along with all members of your family and strengthing family bonds so that you won't reach old age feeling like a stranger to those who could have been close to you.

If you have always been the kind of open-hearted person that others find it easy to love—you won't be without the love of any human being when you are old.

And you will always have recognition if you meet old age with gallant courage, a continuing keen interest in the world around you, and an independent spirit.

Just knowing that what you will need to be happy in old age is fundamentally what you need to be happy right now ought to make you try to hold on to those precious assets—instead of letting them slip away from you as you grow older.

Two Protests Upheld

Kingston and Albany In State Soccer Tie

Championship Game Sunday at Dietz

Kingston Sport Club booters and the Albany Athletic Club will be in a flat-footed tie for first place when the clash for the Central New York Soccer Association championship Sunday at Dietz Stadium.

The Albanians emerged as larger beneficiaries than Kingston from the league's protest meeting last Saturday at Albany. Their protest against Endicott was upheld and they were credited with a victory instead of a defeat.

Kingston which tied 3-3 with Sons of Italy of Schenectady had its protest upheld and the tie became a win in the standings. Both protests were based on the use of ineligible players by the opposing team.

The favorable protest decision was a big break for Albany. Had both protests been denied, Kingston would have held a slight lead in points going into the climactic clash. As it is, the teams are tied with identical totals of 38.4 points.

The championship game is scheduled to start at 5:30 p. m. The proceeds will go to the Kingston Hospital fund.

In case of a tie at the end of the regulation 90-minute contest, the teams will play two 15-minute overtime periods. If there is still a tie, a new game will be scheduled on a neutral field.

Davis' HR Gives LA 1-0 Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It obviously was supposed to be a work-hard-for-one-run sort of ball game. Hit and run, steal, squeeze, sacrifice and all that sort of thing. That's the way the Los Angeles Dodgers have been winning many of their games.

With the Dodgers and St. Louis hooked up in a scoreless struggle night, it looked like another one.

But Tommy Davis was having none of it. He departed from the script. He hit a one-out homer in the bottom of the ninth to give the Dodgers and Sandy Koufax an important 1-0 victory over St. Louis and spoil a fine job by Cardinal right-hander Bob Gibson.

The victory increased the Dodgers' National League lead to 1½ games over idle San Francisco. Hank Aaron's second grand slam homer in four days helped Milwaukee to a 7-1 triumph over New York and Cincinnati broke out of a three-game losing string and swept two from Pittsburgh, 6-5 and 4-2 in the only other National League games scheduled.

Minnesota crept to within 1½ games of the top and snapped Kansas City's six-game winning string with a 9-4 romp over the Athletics in the only game scheduled in the American League.

A Nifty Battle

Koufax and Gibson (8-5) had a nifty battle going before Davis decided things with his 350-foot shot. It was his 13th of the season and pushed his major-league leading RBI total to 69.

It was only the third hit off Gibson, who struck out Davis in his first two appearances.

Koufax (10-2) allowed only five singles, struck out nine and, for the first time in his career, went nine innings without walking a man.

Aaron became only the second National Leaguer ever to reach the distant left centerfield bleachers in the Polo Grounds when his bases-loaded third-inning homer settled things for the Braves. The 460-foot drive off Jay Hook (4-8) was Aaron's 14th homer of the season and sixth grand slam of his career.

Purkey's seven-hitter won the nightcap after Jim Brosnan and Johnny Klippstein choked off late-inning Pirate rallies in support of Jay in the first. The Reds put together a 14-hit attack in the first game, including homers by Frank Robinson. Don Blasingame and Chico Cardenas. Jerry Lynch homered in the second game and Vada Pinson had six hits in eight times at bat during the evening.

Camilo Pascual (9-4), backed by a 17-hit attack, avenged a 6-1 loss to Kansas City in the series opener. He allowed only seven hits, but they included homers by Dick Howser and Gino Cimoli. Rich Rollins and Vic Power each had three hits and Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles each drove in three runs to head the Minnesota offense.

Aaron Hits Tape Measures Homer, His Longest Ever

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Aaron couldn't hold back a big grin.

"I might have hit one harder," the Milwaukee outfielder said today, "but never further."

He was talking about his tape-measure grand slam homer in the third inning of the Braves' 7-1 victory over the New York Mets Monday night.

Aaron is in the midst of a streak. It wasn't long ago that he was hovering around the .200 mark. Now he is hitting .325 and has had two grand slammers in four days. Since May 30, he has had 32 hits in 80 times at bat for an even .400 average.

Aaron's blast was only the second ever to reach the left-center field bleachers in the Polo Grounds. Joe Adcock, also of the Braves, hit one there in 1953, before Aaron came up. Rookie Lou Brock of the Chicago Cubs hit one into the right centerfield bleachers Sunday. It was the first time a ball ever has been hit there.

Onteora Varsity Golfers Trounce Faculty, 10 to 5

Onteora Central School golfers picked on the faculty team to complete a winning season (6 wins, 5 losses), drubbing the profs, 10 to 5, in a duel to the finish at Woodstock Country Club links.

Some details are vague, others missing, but it has been learned that George Finigan, the district's purchasing agent and a sharp man with figures, was unable to match David Dean's 39-39-78 and dropped three points to the varsity's No. 1 performer.

Dick Wahl, a history teacher, had a first nine 37 to take one point from Jay Van Wagenen, the No. 2 varsity player. Prof. Wahl's game suffered a slight collapse on the back nine and Jay racked up two points. Wahl's score was quickly placed among the classified documents at Onteora Central.

Dr. George Sullivan, the District Principal, and Paul Jordan of the athletic department, were able to play only nine holes. Jordan took 2½ points with a 38. Dr. Sullivan, who claims he hasn't played in ten years, was outdriving all the players. His 45 took three points for the faculty.

John Peacock outplayed Ed Witko to win 2½ points. By mutual agreement the scores of both players will remain a secret.

Joins Sinclair

Savel's 150 Captures National PGA Berth

Long hitting Steve Savel, 46-year-old Western Turnpike pro (Schenectady), will join Alex Sinclair of Mohawk, 1961 district champion, as Northeastern PGA representatives in the National PGA tournament at Aronimink C. C., Newton Square, Pa., on July 19-22.

Savvel scored 76-74-150 over the par 72 Albany Country Club Monday to edge Claude Young of Totem Lodge by a single shot in the competition for the one berth open to Northeastern pros.

Sinclair is an automatic qualifier for the Nationals by virtue of being the 1961 Northeastern champion.

The burly pro, generally regarded as the longest hitter in area golf, will be making his fourth trip to the National PGA. His last was in 1946 at Dayton, Ohio, where he won several matches and earned $500. Since then the PGA format has been changed from match play to medal competition.

Erratic Round

Savel had an erratic 34-42-76 morning round on the par 36-36-72 links. He was steadier in the afternoon with birdies on the fifth, eighth and 570-yard 14th where he got home in two for 37-37-74.

Qualifiers at Rochester in the Western New York Section were Bobby Hill, pro at the Midvale Country Club, and Sam Urzetta, former U. S. Amateur champion. Hill shot 69-72-141. Urzetta carded 75-71-146.

Larry Bartosek of Skaneateles won the lone berth in the Central New York Section with a 70-75-145 for 36 holes on the par 70 Elmira Country Club course.

Armstrong Pulls Leg Muscle Competing in Track Meet

Hobie Armstrong of Kingston was one of three members of the crack Harvard University track team competing last week in the NCAA meet at the Worlds Fair site in Seattle. However, the ex-Kingston High football immortal pulled a leg muscle in the qualifying event of the hop, step and jump and he was scratched from further competition.

The muscle pull was a slight one and it isn't exepected to keep Hobie from returning to the football wars in September. Armstrong and the other Harvard track stars were in Seattle for the entire week. They returned to the Cambridge, Mass. school on Sunday.

Armstrong is expected to be a key in the football fortunes of the Crimson this year. He sat out a year because of scholastic troubles but his marks were well above average this past season. He was a regular performer for the track team, competing in the hop, step and jump and throwing the javelin as well as running in the dash events. Armstrong holds the hop, step and jump record at Harvard.

Hobie is majoring engineering and will be starting his senior year in September.

Nadler Motors Scores Sixth Straight City Softball Win

Two Protests Upheld

Kingston and Albany In State Soccer Tie

Championship Game Sunday at Dietz

Kingston Sport Club booters and the Albany Athletic Club will be in a flat-footed tie for first place when the clash for the Central New York Soccer Association championship Sunday at Dietz Stadium.

The Albanians emerged as larger beneficiaries than Kingston from the league's protest meeting last Saturday at Albany. Their protest against Endicott was upheld and they were credited with a victory instead of a defeat.

Kingston which tied 3-3 with Sons of Italy of Schenectady had its protest upheld and the tie became a win in the standings. Both protests were based on the use of ineligible players by the opposing team.

The favorable protest decision was a big break for Albany. Had both protests been denied, Kingston would have held a slight lead in points going into the climactic clash. As it is, the teams are tied with identical totals of 38.4 points.

The championship game is scheduled to start at 5:30 p. m. The proceeds will go to the Kingston Hospital fund.

In case of a tie at the end of the regulation 90-minute contest, the teams will play two 15-minute overtime periods. If there is still a tie, a new game will be scheduled on a neutral field.

Muhlich Awarded Baseball Letter

ITHACA — Leonard Muhlich of Phoenicia has been selected by Coach Carlton Wood of the Ithaca College freshman baseball team to receive jersey numerals. He was an outfielder.

He performed on a team that won six, lost four, and tied one for the 13th straight winning season compiled by Ithaca freshman baseball aggregations. The Bombers defeated the Colgate frosh twice, Hobart; broke even with the Cornell frosh, the Cortland and Brockport jayvees, and lost to the Army plebes. They tied Syracuse in 10 innings.

Muhlich, who is enrolled in the School of Health and Physical Education at Ithaca College, lives on Chichester Road, in Phoenicia. He is a graduate of Onteora High School.

Davis' HR Gives LA 1-0 Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It obviously was supposed to be a work-hard-for-one-run sort of ball game. Hit and run, steal, squeeze, sacrifice and all that sort of thing. That's the way the Los Angeles Dodgers have been winning many of their games.

With the Dodgers and St. Louis hooked up in a scoreless struggle night, it looked like another one.

But Tommy Davis was having none of it. He departed from the script. He hit a one-out homer in the bottom of the ninth to give the Dodgers and Sandy Koufax an important 1-0 victory over St. Louis and spoil a fine job by Cardinal right-hander Bob Gibson.

The victory increased the Dodgers' National League lead to 1½ games over idle San Francisco. Hank Aaron's second grand slam homer in four days helped Milwaukee to a 7-1 triumph over New York and Cincinnati broke out of a three-game losing string and swept two from Pittsburgh, 6-5 and 4-2 in the only other National League games scheduled.

Minnesota crept to within 1½ games of the top and snapped Kansas City's six-game winning string with a 9-4 romp over the Athletics in the only game scheduled in the American League.

A Nifty Battle

Koufax and Gibson (8-5) had a nifty battle going before Davis decided things with his 350-foot shot. It was his 13th of the season and pushed his major-league leading RBI total to 69.

It was only the third hit off Gibson, who struck out Davis in his first two appearances.

Koufax (10-2) allowed only five singles, struck out nine and, for the first time in his career, went nine innings without walking a man.

Aaron became only the second National Leaguer ever to reach the distant left centerfield bleachers in the Polo Grounds when his bases-loaded third-inning homer settled things for the Braves. The 460-foot drive off Jay Hook (4-8) was Aaron's 14th homer of the season and sixth grand slam of his career.

Purkey's seven-hitter won the nightcap after Jim Brosnan and Johnny Klippstein choked off late-inning Pirate rallies in support of Jay in the first. The Reds put together a 14-hit attack in the first game, including homers by Frank Robinson, Don Blasingame and Chico Cardenas. Jerry Lynch homered in the second game and Vada Pinson had six hits in eight times at bat during the evening.

Camilo Pascual (9-4), backed by a 17-hit attack, avenged a 6-1 loss to Kansas City in the series opener. He allowed only seven hits, but they included homers by Dick Howser and Gino Cimoli. Rich Rollins and Vic Power each had three hits and Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles each drove in three runs to head the Minnesota offense.

Aaron Hits Tape Measures Homer, His Longest Ever

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Aaron couldn't hold back a big grin.

"I might have hit one harder," the Milwaukee outfielder said today, "but never further."

He was talking about his tape-measure grand slam homer in the third inning of the Braves' 7-1 victory over the New York Mets Monday night.

Aaron is in the midst of a streak. It wasn't long ago that he was hovering around the .200 mark. Now he is hitting .325 and has had two grand slammers in four days. Since May 30, he has had 32 hits in 80 times at bat for an even .400 average.

Aaron's blast was only the second ever to reach the left-center field bleachers in the Polo Grounds. Joe Adcock, also of the Braves, hit one there in 1953, before Aaron came up. Rookie Lou Brock of the Chicago Cubs hit one into the right centerfield bleachers Sunday. It was the first time a ball ever has been hit there.

Onteora Varsity Golfers Trounce Faculty, 10 to 5

Onteora Central School golfers picked on the faculty team to complete a winning season (6 wins, 5 losses), drubbing the profs, 10 to 5, in a duel to the finish at Woodstock Country Club links.

Some details are vague, others missing, but it has been learned that George Finigan, the district's purchasing agent and a sharp man with figures, was unable to match David Dean's 39-39-78 and dropped three points to the varsity's No. 1 performer.

Dick Wahl, a history teacher, had a first nine 37 to take one point from Jay Van Wagenen, the No. 2 varsity player. Prof. Wahl's game suffered a slight collapse on the back nine and Jay racked up two points. Wahl's score was quickly placed among the classified documents at Onteora Central.

Dr. George Sullivan, the District Principal, and Paul Jordan of the athletic department, were able to play only nine holes. Jordan took 2½ points with a 38. Dr. Sullivan, who claims he hasn't played in ten years, was outdriving all the players. His 45 took three points for the faculty.

John Peacock outplayed Ed Witko to win 2½ points. By mutual agreement the scores of both players will remain a secret.

Joins Sinclair

Savel's 150 Captures National PGA Berth

Long hitting Steve Savel, 46-year-old Western Turnpike pro (Schenectady), will join Alex Sinclair of Mohawk, 1961 district champion, as Northeastern PGA representatives in the National PGA tournament at Aronimink C. C., Newton Square, Pa., on July 19-22.

Savvel scored 76-74-150 over the par 72 Albany Country Club Monday to edge Claude Young of Totem Lodge by a single shot in the competition for the one berth open to Northeastern pros.

Sinclair is an automatic qualifier for the Nationals by virtue of being the 1961 Northeastern champion.

The burly pro, generally regarded as the longest hitter in area golf, will be making his fourth trip to the National PGA. His last was in 1946 at Dayton, Ohio, where he won several matches and earned $500. Since then the PGA format has been changed from match play to medal competition.

Erratic Round

Savel had an erratic 34-42-76 morning round on the par 36-36-72 links. He was steadier in the afternoon with birdies on the fifth, eighth and 570-yard 14th where he got home in two for 37-37-74.

Armstrong Pulls Leg Muscle Competing in Track Meet

Hobie Armstrong of Kingston was one of three members of the crack Harvard University track team competing last week in the NCAA meet at the Worlds Fair site in Seattle. However, the ex-Kingston High football immortal pulled a leg muscle in the qualifying event of the hop, step and jump and he was scratched from further competition.

The muscle pull was a slight one and it isn't exepected to keep Hobie from returning to the football wars in September. Armstrong and the other Harvard track stars were in Seattle for the entire week. They returned to the Cambridge, Mass. school on Sunday.

Armstrong is expected to be a key in the football fortunes of the Crimson this year. He sat out a year because of scholastic troubles but his marks were well above average this past season. He was a regular performer for the track team, competing in the hop, step and jump and throwing the javelin as well as running in the dash events. Armstrong holds the hop, step and jump record at Harvard.

Hobie is majoring engineering and will be starting his senior year in September.

Ralph Kiner it now turns out, never said the phrase that has become a part of baseball idiom—"Singles hitters drive Fords; home run hitters drive Cadillacs" . . . 'I've been driving a Ford a long time," confessed the former slugger, who now airs games for the New York Mets. "Fritz Ostermueller (the old major league pitcher) said it." . . .

Maury Wills

Any time Casey Stengel is in a gathering with Mickey Mantel, he says, "I want to see Big Pete." . . . that's his name for the Yankee bomber. . . .

* * *

Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers gave Bobby Bragan credit for making a major leaguer of him after eight years of traveling the bushes. . . . "It was July of '58," relates the Dodger shortstop. "I was in Spokane and Bobby was the manager. One day I got to fooling around in the batting cage batting left-handed. . . . 'Hey, let's see more of that,' said Bobby. . . . The next four days he threw special batting practice to me, then said, 'From now on, you're a switch hitter.' . . . My first full season in the majors, 1959, was the first year I batted from both sides of the plate." . . .

What also saved him, says Wills, was the "psychology of being a minor leaguer." . . . so that when the Detroit Tigers sent him back with scarcely a trial (although he got 11 hits in 23 AB's), he wasn't shocked. . . . "I'd made up my mind that I'd just go along doing the best I could because making a living had replaced the earlier dream of being in the big leagues." . . .

* * *

Herb Goren called up Jack Price, the voluble owner of Carry Back, and asked Jack what he calls the horse. . . ; "I call him a blankety blank," winked Jack. "He calls me 'Boss.' . . . Now that he's a millionaire (after the famous handicap horse won the Metropolitan Handicap), I call him 'C.B.' . . . I give him an extra carrot or two." . . .

Andy Carey, the long-time New York Yankee with the Dodgers, gives the title of baseball's fastest to Willie Davis. . . . "He can beat Mantle going from first to third." . . .

* * *

Warren Hutchinson, the old fistic figure blew in from Europe with a cynical ditty titled Rice Is Corn: "It matters not how you play the game. . . Nice guys can't win and make a name. . . . They lose their jobs and are barred to fame. . . . It ain't no sin—you gotta cheat to win." . . .

Professional football wondering if Allie Sherman of the New York Giants is trying to be another Paul Brown, taking over every phase of the football operation, including the defense. . . .

* * *

The pressure, admits the Dodgers' Frank Howard, is off him since the Davis boys—Willie and Tommy—arrived with great fanfare . . . there's no longer the compulsion to swing like Babe Ruth on every pitch. . . . "I'm only trying to make contact," he explained. "I figure after a while the long ones'll start dropping."

The biggest problem on the Dodgers is what to do with Wally Moon, their leading clouter, bridge player and crossword puzzle expert. . . since the switch from the Coliseum with its short left field to the new Chavez Ravine showplace has made him a liability in the field—he doesn't throw well'. . . he wasn't sharp during an early season trial on first base. . . .

* * *

The hysteria of the Giants' return to New York got so bad at one point that Manager Alvin Dark had to pull Willie Mays away from the grips of the fans who surrounded him evey time he got anywhere near the grandstand and railings. . . and order Willie into the batting cage so he could get his mind back on baseball.

Who says a batter can't learn to hit?. . . When Giant catcher Tom Haller was sent to Tacoma last year, there was a suspicion that despite his major league receiving tools, he'd never maintain a big league average at bat. . . . "But he's a living illustratin," says Al Dark, "that a man can learn to hit—through hard work."

Between you'n'me, the only thing that holds back pitcher Juan Marichal from greatness, say San Francisco insiders, is his tendency to make pitches "too good." . . .

The Knights used two singles, a walk and a home run by Jim Brown to score four runs in the sixth and defeat the Elks Club, 5-3, at Dietz Stadium.

Trailing, 4-3, starting the seventh frame, the KPA boys pushed six runs across the dish and then stopped a last ditch rally by the Legion to gain a 9-6 decision.

The Knights collected six hits off the slants of Lou Perry. Tremper doubled for the losers.

Joe Schabot, the Legion belter, slammed a home run, double and single and scored twice in his team's effort to top the KPA. Dan Potter and Joe Nalepa also doubled. Potter was the winner over Ed Bennett.

Wagner Leads AL In Homers With 18

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels are making surprisingly rapid progress in the American League pennant race and they owe much of the headway to fence-bustin' Leon Wagner.

The acquisition of Wagner from Toronto of the International League just before the start of the 1961 campaign has turned out to be quite a bonanza.

Last season, Wagner hit 28 homers for the Angels. This year, he's hitting 'em at an even faster clip. He walloped three in last week's games to take over the American League lead with 18.

Wagner also drove in four runs and is deadlocked for second place in RBI with Kansas City's Norm Siebern. Each has 48, one less than Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox.

Willie Mays of San Francisco continues to top the National League in home runs with 21 while Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers has the most runs batted in, 68.

Rich Rollins of Minnesota and Felipe Alou of San Francisco maintained their batting leads. Rollins lost one point and heads the American League with .355. Alou dropped nine points, but still is the No. 1 National League batsman with .339. The figures include Sunday's games.

The most spectacular advances last week were made by Pete Runnels of Boston and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee. Runnels picked up 15 points with 10 hits in 20 tries while Aaron gained 25 points with 13 safeties in 24 times at bat.

Runnels is third in the American League with a .347 average and Aaron is sixth in the National at .320.

Nation's Top Gridiron Stars Prepare for All-America Tilt

By BOB POWELL

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Sixty-one of the nation's finest collegiate football players began arriving here today to get ready for the second annual All-America Football Bowl game in 10 days.

Among the earlier scheduled arrivals were Heisman Trophy winner, halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse University, and Ohio State's blockbusting fullback, Bob Ferguson.

Four other Associated Press first-team All-America selections will line up with the East. They are:

Tackle Billy Neighbors of Alabama's national champions; center Alex Kroll of Rutgers, end Bill Miller of Miami of Florida, and Roy Winston of Louisiana State.

The West has three members of the AP first team, including: Quarterback Sandy Stephens of Minnesota, Jimmy Saxton, Texas University's roadrunning halfback, and tackle Merlin Olsen of Utah State's Gotham Bowl team.

Only seniors are eligible for competition.

Double Workout

The coaching staffs, equally as impressive as the list of players, have scheduled doubleheader workouts at the University of Buffalo campus where the teams will be housed.

The West squad includes 31 players, one more than the East because of an agreement before last year's game. One of Murray Warmath's stars was injured before the game and he went into it one short. As a result he got an additional selection for this one.

The West was the victor last year, 30-20, in a game described as one of the best of the all-star spectaculars. That one was not televised, but this year's will be carried on 176 stations (NBC-TV) to a home audience estimated at 25 million.

Woody Hayes of Ohio State, head coach of the East, is expected to tap North Carolina State's Roman Gabriel for the starting assignment at quarterback.

Stephens, a master at the razzle-dazzle from quarterback, may get some competition for the starting assignment from Bobby Ply of Baylor who stole the show in the National Football League's look-see bowl in Washington last January. Ply, signed with Dallas of the American Football League.

Warmath, the Minnesota coach, heads the West staff that also includes Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and John Ralston of Utah State. Hayes will get help from Syracuse's Ben Schwartzwalder and Bill Murray of Duke.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Hank Aaron, Braves drove in five runs on grand slam homer and two singles and became only the second National Leaguer ever to hit into the left center field bleachers at the Polo Grounds in Milwaukee's 7-1 victory over New York.

Pitching—Sandy Koufax, Dodgers, struck out nine and walked none in five-hit 1-0 shutout of St. Louis as Los Angeles increased its National League lead to 1½ games.

The winners had 12 safeties. In addtion to his home run, Grumaer had a double and three singles while scoring three runs. Pleough rapped three doubles and a pair of singles. J. Keller had two doubles.

Andy Carey, the long-time New York Yankee with the Dodgers, gives the title of baseball's fastest to Willie Davis. . . . "He can beat Mantle going from first to third." . . .

* * *

Warren Hutchinson, the old fistic figure blew in from Europe with a cynical ditty titled Rice Is Corn: "It matters not how you play the game. . . Nice guys can't win and make a name. . . . They lose their jobs and are barred to fame. . . . It ain't no sin—you gotta cheat to win." . . .

Professional football wondering if Allie Sherman of the New York Giants is trying to be another Paul Brown, taking over every phase of the football operation, including the defense. . . .

* * *

The pressure, admits the Dodgers' Frank Howard, is off him since the Davis boys—Willie and Tommy—arrived with great fanfare . . . there's no longer the compulsion to swing like Babe Ruth on every pitch. . . . "I'm only trying to make contact," he explained. "I figure after a while the long ones'll start dropping."

The biggest problem on the Dodgers is what to do with Wally Moon, their leading clouter, bridge player and crossword puzzle expert. . . since the switch from the Coliseum with its short left field to the new Chavez Ravine showplace has made him a liability in the field—he doesn't throw well'. . . he wasn't sharp during an early season trial on first base. . . .

* * *

The hysteria of the Giants' return to New York got so bad at one point that Manager Alvin Dark had to pull Willie Mays away from the grips of the fans who surrounded him evey time he got anywhere near the grandstand and railings. . . and order Willie into the batting cage so he could get his mind back on baseball.

Who says a batter can't learn to hit?. . . When Giant catcher Tom Haller was sent to Tacoma last year, there was a suspicion that despite his major league receiving tools, he'd never maintain a big league average at bat. . . . "But he's a living illustratin," says Al Dark, "that a man can learn to hit—through hard work."

Between you'n'me, the only thing that holds back pitcher Juan Marichal from greatness, say San Francisco insiders, is his tendency to make pitches "too good." . . .

K of C, KPA Get Victories In BRL Tilts

Knights of Columbus and KPA staged late rallies to capture victories in the Kingston Babe Ruth League Monday night.

The Knights used two singles, a walk and a home run by Jim Brown to score four runs in the sixth and defeat the Elks Club, 5-3, at Dietz Stadium.

Trailing, 4-3, starting the seventh frame, the KPA boys pushed six runs across the dish and then stopped a last ditch rally by the Legion to gain a 9-6 decision.

The Knights collected six hits off the slants of Lou Perry. Tremper doubled for the losers.

Joe Schabot, the Legion belter, slammed a home run, double and single and scored twice in his team's effort to top the KPA. Dan Potter and Joe Nalepa also doubled. Potter was the winner over Ed Bennett.

Wagner Leads AL In Homers With 18

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels are making surprisingly rapid progress in the American League pennant race and they owe much of the headway to fence-bustin' Leon Wagner.

The acquisition of Wagner from Toronto of the International League just before the start of the 1961 campaign has turned out to be quite a bonanza.

Last season, Wagner hit 28 homers for the Angels. This year, he's hitting 'em at an even faster clip. He walloped three in last week's games to take over the American League lead with 18.

Wagner also drove in four runs and is deadlocked for second place in RBI with Kansas City's Norm Siebern. Each has 48, one less than Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox.

Willie Mays of San Francisco continues to top the National League in home runs with 21 while Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers has the most runs batted in, 68.

Rich Rollins of Minnesota and Felipe Alou of San Francisco maintained their batting leads. Rollins lost one point and heads the American League with .355. Alou dropped nine points, but still is the No. 1 National League batsman with .339. The figures include Sunday's games.

The most spectacular advances last week were made by Pete Runnels of Boston and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee. Runnels picked up 15 points with 10 hits in 20 tries while Aaron gained 25 points with 13 safeties in 24 times at bat.

Runnels is third in the American League with a .347 average and Aaron is sixth in the National at .320.

Nation's Top Gridiron Stars Prepare for All-America Tilt

By BOB POWELL

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Sixty-one of the nation's finest collegiate football players began arriving here today to get ready for the second annual All-America Football Bowl game in 10 days.

Among the earlier scheduled arrivals were Heisman Trophy winner, halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse University, and Ohio State's blockbusting fullback, Bob Ferguson.

That combination of beef and speed has made the East a slight favorite in the mid - summer night's dream game.

Four other Associated Press first-team All-America selections will line up with the East. They are:

Tackle Billy Neighbors of Alabama's national champions; center Alex Kroll of Rutgers, end Bill Miller of Miami of Florida, and Roy Winston of Louisana State.

The West has three members of the AP first team, including: Quarterback Sandy Stephens of Minnesota, Jimmy Saxton, Texas University's roadrunning halfback, and tackle Merlin Olsen of Utah State's Gotham Bowl team.

Only seniors are eligible for competition.

Double Workout

The coaching staffs, equally as impressive as the list of players, have scheduled doubleheader workouts at the University of Buffalo campus where the teams will be housed.

The West squad includes 21 players, one more than the East because of an agreement before last year's game. One of Murray Warmath's stars was injured before the game and he went into it one short. As a result he got an additional selection for this one.

The West was the victor last year, 30-20, in a game described as one of the best of the all-star spectaculars. That one was not televised, but this year's will be carried on 176 stations (NBC-TV) to a home audience estimated at 25 million.

Woody Hayes of Ohio State, head coach of the East, is expected to tap North Carolina State's Roman Gabriel for the starting assignment at quarterback.

Stephens, a master at the razzle-dazzle from quarterback, may get some competition for the starting assignment from Bobby Ply of Baylor who stole the show in the National Football League's look-see bowl in Washington last January. Ply, signed with Dallas of the American Football League.

Warmath, the Minnesota coach, heads the West staff that also includes Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and John Ralston of Utah State. Hayes will get help from Syracuse's Ben Schwartzwalder and Bill Murray of Duke.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Hank Aaron, Braves drove in five runs on grand slam homer and two singles and became only the second National Leaguer ever to hit into the left center field bleachers at the Polo Grounds in Milwaukee's 7-1 victory over New York.

Pitching—Sandy Koufax, Dodgers, struck out nine and walked none in five-hit 1-0 shutout of St. Louis as Los Angeles increased its National League lead to 1½ games.

Opening with a 10-run salvo in the first frame, the Mohawks coasted to a 21-6 win over the Navajo in the Metropolitan Knothole League yesterday. John Grumaer hit the first home in the league this season, a grand-slammer.

The winners had 12 safeties. In addtion to his home run, Grumaer had a double and three singles while scoring three runs. Pleough rapped three doubles and a pair of singles. J. Keller had two doubles.

PartyHeadsAgree On Uneasiness, Not Cause, Cure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opposing party leaders agreed today that the present mood of the country is one of uneasiness and uncertainty. They disagreed on the cause and cure of the malaise.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Congress must act quickly on President Kennedy's legislative program to "dispel some of the uncertainty which has been accumulating in recent months throughout the nation."

"The people wonder why we aren't doing anything in Congress," Mansfield said. "It is time we got down to hard work to reach some final decisions on the President's proposals."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview that "it isn't what Congress is not doing but what it might do that is causing uneasiness in the country."

"There is uneasiness in some quarters about the administration's proposal to withhold taxes on interest and dividends," he said.

"There are fears and doubts about the President's trade program. There is a great deal of opposition to his proposal to finance health care for the elderly by increasing Social Security taxes.

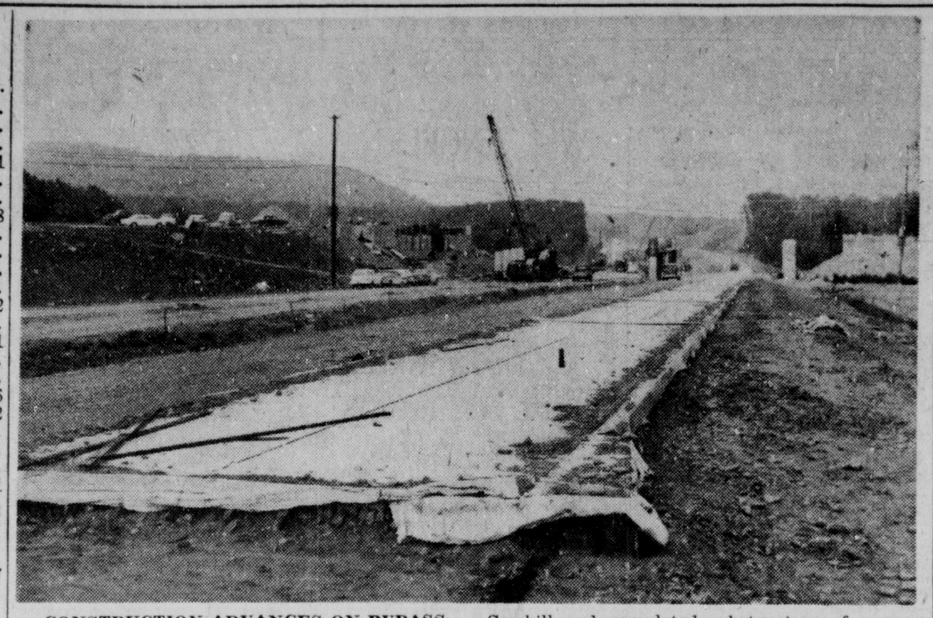

"Nobody knows what the House is going to do about the farm bill. All of these add up to a general mood of uncertainty and uneasiness."

Mansfield told senators Monday they can look forward to 9 or 10-hour work days, beginning on Wednesday, about double the average of five-hour sessions thus far this year. He said the Senate will meet on Saturdays and have only a one-day holiday July 4.

Woman Pleads Innocent

MAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—A 46-year-old woman has pleaded innocent to a charge of first-degree manslaughter charge in the shooting of a 54-year-old man last month.

Mrs. Estella B. Davis, of Jamestown, entered the plea Monday at her arraignment in Chautauqua County Court here. She was accused of shooting Robert Offord of Jamestown May 28 after an argument at the residence where both lived.

To Dedicate Facility At Camp Loyaltown

new swimming crib at Camp Loyaltown in Hunter will be dedicated at ceremonies at 2 p. m., Sunday, July 8, Herbert A. Einhorn, chairman of the dedication committee, announced this week.

The event will open with a tour of the camp grounds at 1:30, he said, and the dedication will follow at the swimming pool and will move to the Ed Sullivan Recreation Building at 2:30. A program of entertainment will commence at 3:30 p. m., after which refreshments will be served.

The ceremonies represent a continuation of the policy started many years ago by the late Nat H. Abramson, founder of the non-denominational camp for under-privileged boys.

Each year a new building or other feature was added to the facilities at Camp Loyaltown and each July Mr. Abramson staged impressive dedication ceremonies as a tribute to the contributing and sponsoring organizations which had made it possible.

Prepares 'The Wall'

NEW YORK (AP)—The international Theater Festival at Paris this sunmmer will get a Broadway drama in roundabout fashion. 'Earth Doctor' Is Again Accused of Dispending 'Cure'

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—Leland H. Wickham, the so-called Odessa "earth doctor" who was convicted last year of illegally practicing medicine by giving away a substance he claimed would cure a variety of illnesses, has been accused of dispensing the substance again.

Wickham was put on three-year probation and given a suspended three-year jail sentence after his conviction. Monday, he was ordered to appear in Schuyler County Court here Friday to show why his probation should not be revoked and why he should not be found in violation of probation.

Wickham had been ordered to "cease and desist" from selling his so-called "dark earth" substance.

Thomas J. Woodruff of Fairport has accused Wickham of selling him a bag of it in Odessa on June 11 to treat phlebitis, a disorder of the veins.

Wickham, 55, was convicted Dec. 1 of seven counts of practicing medicine without a license. He allegedly gave away the "dark earth" to people who came from all over the state, thinking it would cure illnesses as serious as cancer. He did not charge for the substance but allegedly accepted donations.

Charge Ellenville Man With Assault, Second

Paul J. Dunn, alias Patrick J. Dunn, 34, of 1 Brodhead Street, Ellenville, is being held in Ulster County jail on a second degree assault charge. He will have a hearing before Justice Frank Decker on June 25.

Dunn was arrested by Police Officer John Phillips of the Ellenville Police Department, on information sworn out by Chief Abe Rand, charging that on Sunday Dunn committed an assault upon one, William McGrath, 235 Canal Street. McGrath, injured about the left side and chest, was taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital. He asked for an examination when taken before Justice Decker.

Complainants Should Move, School Advice

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Rochester Board of Education, seeking dismissal of a segregation suit in federal district court, says those complaining should move to other school districts.

The action by the board Monday was in answer to a charge filed May 28 by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in behalf of 22 children and their parents that the board was maintaining segregated schools. More than half of the complainants are white.

The board said the complainants "are under a duty to establish residence in an area not predominated by a homogeneous racial group. . .Members of the class they allege to represent are under a duty to avoid and prevent segregation."

The complaint is the first biracial suit filed in the segregation question and did not mention color.

Resnick Slaying May Be Compared To Mercy Killing

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) -- The Sam L. Resnick murder case may be compared to a mercy killing when defense attorneys present their arguments in court.

Resnick, 61, a one-time Albany, N.Y., jeweler was strangled last March 1. Five young Phoenix Negroes have been charged with first-degree murder. They claim Resnick hired them to kill him because he suffered from incurable cancer.

Earlier, one of the defendants said, "Mr. Sam said he was in bad pain."

Several potential jurors were asked Monday if they believed mercy killings were justifiable in such cases. None of the responses indicated a killing such as Resnick's would be justifiable.

More than 200 centiremen are being questioned by the five defense attorneys, three of them court-appointed.

Superior Court Judge George M. Sterling said it may take all week to select the jury.

Accused in the slaying are John Henry Lewis Jones, 21; brothers, Clemmie, 19, and R. E. Jackson, 21; Ernest Spurlock, 20; and Jessie Tillis, 19.
